House Approves Much - Amended School Measure

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House passed early today a bill designed to ease the task of school desegregation but loaded it with amendments that could make the job tougher.

Meeting through the night, it approved at 2:21 a.m. President Nixon's request for $1.5 billion to help schools desegregate but clamped harsh restrictions on the use of busing to accomplish the goal.

Both the desegregation measure and the antibusing amendments were added to a multi-billion-dollar higher education bill, and the whole package is now headed for a House-Senate conference to work out a compromise. The vote on passage of the bill was 332 to 38.

The Senate has passed a desegregation bill without any busing restrictions, and civil rights leaders hope to soften the House provisions.

There are three of them, one banning expenditure of any federal funds on busing, another preventing the federal government from requiring a state to use its own funds for busing, and the third delaying the effective date of court-ordered busing plans until all appeals have been exhausted. On their face the first two would appear to restrict severely the ability of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare to carry out requirements of the Civil Rights Act that call for school desegregation.

The one dealing with the courts could hold up busing plans for two or three years while appeals were carried to the Supreme Court.

Black members reacted bitterly to the series of votes, accusing the House of turning the clock back 17 years to the Supreme Court decision that first outlawed school segregation.

"Busing is not the issue," said Rep. Augustus F. Hawkins, D-Calif., "it is desegregation. Those who are opposing busing are really opposing the integration of the schools."

Rep. Shirley Chisholm, D-N.Y., charged her white colleagues with hypocrisy.

"Where were you when black children and Mexican-American children were being bused by your white schools to dilapidated schools where they got an inferior education?" she asked. "Where were your voices crying about busing then?"

Henderson Trial Resumes; Dismissal Motion Slated

FT. MEADE, Md. (AP) — The court-martial of Col. Oran K. Henderson, last of the scheduled My Lai trials, resumes today with pleas by the defense for dismissal of all charges against the much-decorated officer.

His attorneys said they would argue the government failed to show a sufficient amount of evidence to sustain any of the four charges.

Henderson, 51, is accused of trying to conceal the killing of civilians at My Lai failing to investigate thoroughly and ignoring rules requiring the reporting of "acts thought to be war crimes." He also is charged with lying at a Pentagon inquiry.

The trial had been in recess since Oct. 20 when the prosecution rested after calling 62 witnesses in a nine-week period.

Henderson, who earned five silver and five bronze stars in his 30-year career, was commander of the 11th Infantry Brigade in Vietnam. The infantry troops that assaulted My Lai on March 16, 1968, were members of a task force in his brigade.

Capt. Ernest Medina commander of one company, another captain and two sergeants were acquitted of murder and assault charges after separate court-martials. Lt. William Calley Jr., a platoon leader, was convicted of killing at least 22 civilians. His life sentence was reduced to 20 years.

Henderson and 12 other officers were charged with covering up the incident, but the colonel was the only one brought to trial. Conviction on the four counts could bring a term of 6 years, 3 months at hard labor.

The trial is expected to last at least through Thanksgiving. At the conclusion of the defense case, the government probably will call witnesses in rebuttal.

Henderson's lawyers estimated they will call 40 witnesses.

Speeded-Up Viet Pullout In Works?

SAIGON (AP) — Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird was understood to have told President Nguyen Van Thieu today that U.S. withdrawals from Vietnam would be stepped up immediately to send thousands of troops home for Christmas.

No information was available immediately on the exact number, but some U.S. units were reported to have been notified that they would be cut by as much as 50 per cent in the next seven weeks.

President Nixon will make a major announcement on further U.S. troop cutbacks on or about Nov. 15, and informants said he is planning to cut American strength from its present 196,700 to 40,000 or 50,000 by July. This would end the U.S. fighting role and the remaining force would include air support, logistics personnel and advisers.

It was understood that the Nixon administration is thinking in terms of a complete U.S. pullout, but there was no timetable given for that. One source said it depends on when North Vietnam is willing to release U.S. prisoners of war.

School District Faces Closure December 15

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Claymont City School District in Tuscarawas County will have to close down Dec. 15 unless it receives additional operating funds, State Auditor Joseph Ferguson reports.

Ferguson said an audit of the district, a required step in preparation for closing schools, showed it would have to be shut down between Dec. 15 and Jan. 3 in order to avoid incurring a deficit this year.

Hard-Liners Stall Proposal Again

State Solons Fumble Tax Vote

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A House-Senate conference committee worked into the early morning hours today without making any apparent progress on a state tax bill.

The session, called to modify the income tax plan enough to get it to a Senate floor vote today, ended with only one member, House Minority Leader A. G. Lancione, willing to sign it.

The committee chairman,

Rep. Lloyd George Kerns, R-16 Richmond, scheduled another committee meeting this morning prior to an 11 a.m. Senate floor session.

The late night committee meeting resulted from the refusal of Lancione and Kerns to go along with the group's recommendations, stalling a planned floor vote Thursday.

Under informal assembly rules, two members from each house must sign it.

Signing the earlier version Thursday were Sens. Robert Shaw, R-16 Columbus; Oakley Collins, R-18 Ironton; Anthony Calabrese, D-22 Cleveland, the Senate minority leader, and Rep. Norman Murdock, R-70 Cincinnati.

One GOP senator said the real problem was that "Kerns is afraid if it goes to the floor it will fail."

Kerns has consistently opposed the concept of income taxation. He voted against the income tax bill that narrowly passed the House in July.

Lancione's concern is that certain provisions of the bill may drive essential Republican support away from minority efforts in the Senate to pass the tax.

The Senate in September abandoned income taxation in favor of a sales tax boost to finance state government, but not until after the Democratic rank and file had been split on the tax issue by stiff opposition from organized labor.

Lancione conceded late Thursday he had withheld his vote because, as the income tax bill then read, "I realized it would not pass."

Objection to the Gilligan administration's "last chance" income tax proposal has centered on:

—An $18.1 million severance tax.

—A tax on domestic insurance operations amounting to $33.3 million over the two years of the biennium.

—Levels of the corporate profits tax.

Moore Sees Coal Accord Coming Soon

See Announcement On Negotiations Within 72 Hours

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP) — West Virginia Gov. Arch A. Moore Jr. said early today he had reason to believe that a significant announcement in regard to negotiations in the 35-day-old coal strike would be made "within the next 72 hours."

"I have every reason to feel—I'm not just hopeful—that we're an awful lot closer to a contract than a lot of people believe," he said.

The announcement he expects "does not relate to the contract itself but it does relate to the negotiations," he said.

Moore, who last month summoned negotiators seeking an end to the strike to his office, here to urge them toward a solution, said he felt Thursday's meeting with the negotiators by Labor Secretary J. D. Hodgson "was constructive," but he indicated some optimism was becoming apparent before Hodgson urged the negotiating teams to step up their talks.

"I am not at liberty at this time to discuss it," he said, adding that over the past week he

United Asks Emergency Rate Boost

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Contending costs are rising faster than it can absorb them, the Mansfield-based United Telephone Co. asked the Public Utilities Commission Thursday to approve an emergency rate increase.

"Our emergency request for higher rates is based upon our financial crises created through increased costs of operation," said United Executive President Vernon Hershey.

"It is imperative," Hershey said, "that the Public Utilities Commission review our financial situation and allow us to adjust rates upward."

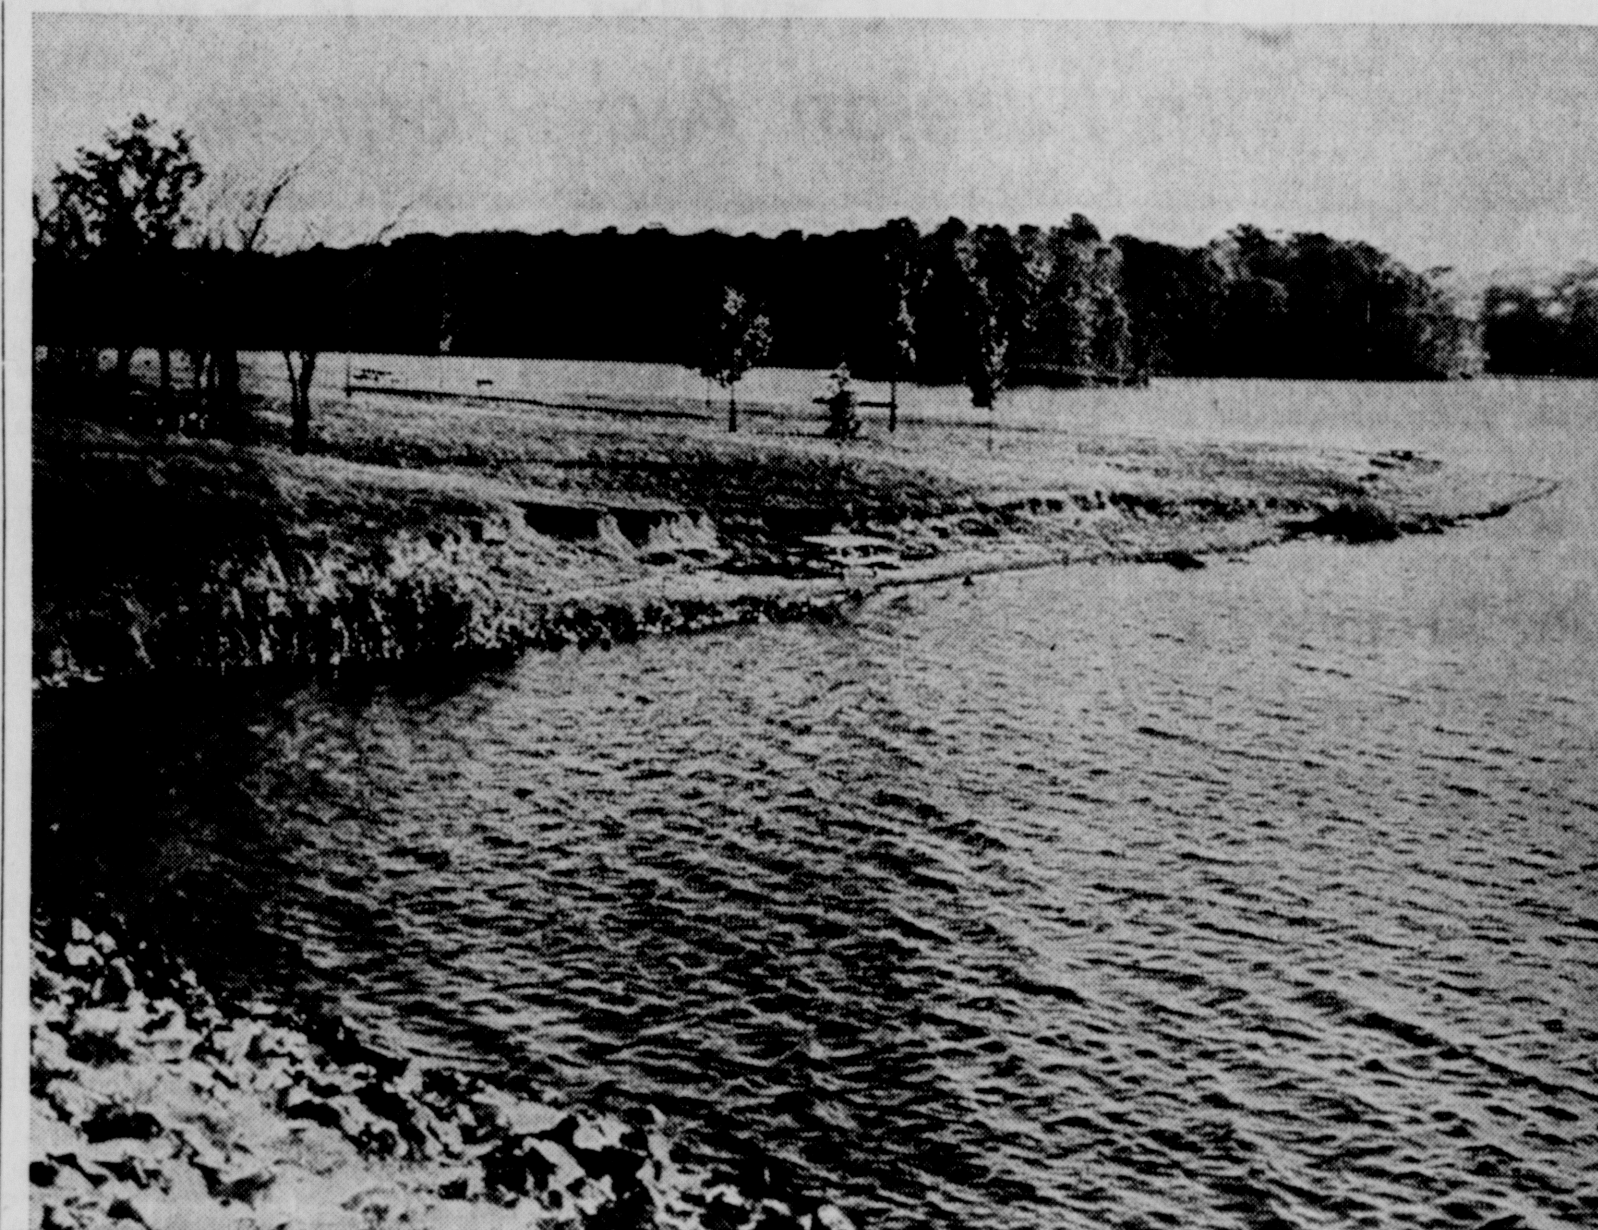

The company requested a 12.3 per cent increase for local services to provide additional gross revenue of $4.6 million, about half of which would go to taxes.

In addition, the cost of a residential extension would go up from 85 cents to $1.25 per month, while business extensions would increase from $1.75 to $2 per month.

There also would be some increases in residential and business service connection, move and change charges.

United operates about 469,000 telephones in 166 exchanges in about 23 per cent of the state's geographic area.

In Lima, one of the cities served by the company, City Council President James Poulston said he planned to call a special city council session to map plans to protest any boost in rates.

REOPENING — A.W. Marion State Park, along with 46 other similar facilities shut down two months ago, reopened Friday morning. The state parks were closed in an austerity program aimed at slicing government spending.

South Viet Losses Heavy In Mekong Delta Ambush

SAIGON (AP) — Heavy South Vietnamese casualties were reported today in a Mekong Delta ambush, with 25 per cent of a company of about 100 militiamen put out of action.

A delayed report from the field said the Viet Cong hit the militia company Wednesday on the Ca Mau peninsula, 125 miles southwest of Saigon.

Seventeen of the militiamen were killed, five were wounded and four are missing, the report said.

Enemy losses were not known.

Bad Turkeys Off Market

WASHINGTON (AP) — Swift & Co. says it will not sell 50,000 contaminated turkeys for human consumption even if the Agriculture Department says it may.

The firm said in a statement Thursday the birds were voluntarily withheld from the market in August after they were discovered to contain high levels of PCBs, industrial chemicals similar to DDT.

Swift said it alerted the Agriculture Department which confirmed the turkeys, bought from a Minnesota grower, were contaminated.

Charles K. Olcott, president of Swift Dairy and Poultry Co., a Swift subsidiary, said the birds "will either be destroyed or used as feed for nonedible animals such as mink."

Elsewhere on the battlefields a lull in major action continued.

The South Vietnamese Command reported five small clashes in which 46 enemy soldiers and one government man were killed and seven government troops wounded.

Associated Press correspondent Robin Mannoock reported from Phnom Penh that Cambodian troops fought to within 500 yards of the beleaguered town of Rumlong, on the north-eastern front, where Communist forces launched a counter-offensive 10 days ago.

In Saigon, Defense Secretary Melvin R. Laird met with President Nguyen Van Thieu and presumably assured him that South Vietnam will continue to get U.S. economic aid despite the Senate's rejection of the foreign aid bill last week.

No information was immediately available on what Laird and Thieu said to each other. But the secretary on his arrival Wednesday night said he would tell Thieu that President Nixon "understands fully the need and the necessity of the economic aid program as we move forward with the Vietnamization program."

Laird said the "stability of the economy and the progress economically in Vietnam is a very important part of the internal security program... I am confident that Congress, after reflecting and after listening to further testimony, will move forward and fund these programs at an adequate level."

The secretary was accompanied to the meeting by U.S.

Ambassador Ellsworth Bunker and Gen. Creighton W. Abrams, commander of U.S. forces in Vietnam. Thieu's aides present included Vice President Tran Van Huong, Premier Tran Thien Khiem and Gen. Cao Van Ven, chairman of the joint general staff.

Laird returns to Washington Saturday and reports to President Nixon before the President announces his next troop withdrawal program about Nov. 15.

Paul Burtner Killed In California

Paul A. Burtner, 51, postmaster at Westminster, Calif., was shot and killed by a disgruntled letter carrier Thursday.

Burtner is a former resident of Circleville and is the brother of Robert Burtner, Route 4.

Witnesses said Philip B. Allemen, 24, Santa Ana, Calif., was angry because he had been disciplined earlier in the day.

He allegedly walked into Burtner's office clutching a revolver in both hands and shouting, "You've had it." Critically wounded was a postal supervisor.

In addition to his brother, Burtner is survived by his father, his widow, four children, three grandchildren and seven other brothers and sisters.

Funeral services will be 10:30 a.m. Monday at Westminster.

Dayton Schools Close Doors

Special Levy Vote Scheduled

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — School doors closed to Dayton's public school children today. All the money is gone.

And there are no more state advances to bail out the bankrupt city school system.

The only way classes could resume this year is through voter approval of a 10.5-mill additional tax levy.

The levy request will be voted on in a special election next Friday. If it is approved, schools will reopen the following Monday, using money borrowed against anticipated levy revenues.

If the levy fails, it will be put to voters again Dec. 14. Passage would mean reopening of schools in a couple of days. Rejection will leave schools closed until January.

In any event, lost days will have to be made up before June 30 because state law requires districts to have 180 days of school.

Rizzo's Brother Fire Commissioner

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Mayor-elect Frank L. Rizzo has announced his first cabinet appointment. He has named his younger brother, Joseph L. Rizzo, as fire commissioner.

Joseph, 47, has been a member of the Philadelphia Fire Department since June 1, 1949, and now is a battalion chief. He will replace James M. McCarey, commissioner since 1965, who announced his resignation Thursday.

A. W. Marion State Park Opened Again

State parks, including the A. W. Marion State Park four miles east of Circleville, reopened Friday.

William Shirey and Doug Pontious started removing "Park Closed" signs 8 a.m. this morning that had been blocking main entrances since the program started two months ago.

The park was sparkling on the crisp, cool fall day and, although grass was in need of cutting, nothing had apparently changed.

Only two fishermen could be seen using the facility, that has been a popular spot of Pickaway County outdoorsmen over the years.

Only one of the men was waiting for the crew to remove signs, however, and only because it was easier to drive to the water than walk up the hill loaded down with fishing gear.

According to Pontious, the park has been used by fishermen and campers all along.

It seemed the only purpose today served was to make the park more easily accessible to visitors, and to once again run the American flag up the pole overlooking the quiet countryside.

President Sets 2nd Conference With Mrs. Gandhi

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon arranged a second meeting today with Indian Prime Minister Indira Gandhi amid reports she is reluctant to pull back troops from the Pakistani border until Pakistan's refugee problem is solved.

At their first White House meeting Thursday, Nixon called for "moderation to reduce the risk of war" on both sides of the border and for a political solution to problems of East Pakistan.

Mrs. Gandhi described her first meeting with Nixon as useful. She planned a session with Secretary of State William P. Rogers as a prelude to the second meeting with the President.

Grid Computer Flub Reported

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — An error was detected in the computerized high school football ratings, and de-throned Warren Harding has been returned to first place in Class AAA region one standings compiled by the Ohio High School Athletic Association.

The regular weekly poll, released Thursday, had Massillon on top despite having been beaten by Warren Harding last week. Warren Harding, No. 1 in The Associated Press state rankings, slipped to third place behind Parma Senior and Lakewood St. Edward in Region 1.

The Athletic Association said the error occurred when the computer was given the wrong winner in the game between the two teams.

House Banking Panel Jumps Into Pay Board Struggle

WASHINGTON (AP) — The embattled Pay Board is described as "down to the nuts and bolts" stage of negotiating a Phase 2 wage increase formula, with hopes of agreement by Monday.

But the board found itself in a cross-fire of angry charges between President Nixon and Congress Thursday, and the Phase 2 program wound up deep in politics.

President George Meany of the AFL-CIO voiced hope of a settlement by Monday after the House Banking Committee dealt itself a hand in the tense, three-way bargaining session of the 15-man labor-public-management Pay Board. The negotiations were to resume today.

The House committee voted amendments to Nixon's Phase 2 control bill which would give unions substantially what Meany demands—the full pay increases negotiated before the wage-price freeze, except for boosts, plus retroactive payment of increases that were blocked during the freeze.

In quick reaction, Nixon read a statement to reporters at the White House:

"The committee's action is clearly inconsistent with the purposes of the economic stabilization program," he said. "It would provide for a piecemeal approach to the development of the programs...."

"The amendments would provide for special treatment to one segment of the American economy."

Banking Committee Chairman Wright Patman, D-Tex., retorted that Nixon had decided to turn a bipartisan program "into a political attack on the Democrats... The President's party apparently has mapped a campaign to use the wage-price program for partisan purposes."

The Pay Board's deliberations were disrupted by the committee votes. The five management and five public members asked and obtained two 90-minute recesses of the session. They reconvened, but darkness had long settled before the delayed session ended.

Yet the board members seemed unruffled. Meany's comment that the board got down to nuts and bolts was endorsed, in effect, by Donald Rumsfeld, director of the Cost of Living Council and an ex-officio member of the Pay Board. The Banking Committee's action "directly undermines" the tripartite idea underlying the board, Rumsfeld said, but he added:

"I'm not a spokesman for the Pay Board. They are doing their work in an orderly fashion... Progress is being made."

The proposed solutions, authored by Sen. William Taft, R-26, and Rep. James Flannery, D-48, both of Cleveland:

—Slight cuts in severance tax rates determined by the weight of minerals extracted from Ohio soils.
—Elimination of the insurance tax on gross premiums added by the Gilligan administration, with the substitution of an increase in the present tax on net worth from 2 to 5 mills on the dollar.

—A hike in corporation taxes from the 4 or 7½ per cent rate to 4 or 8 per cent, and a drop in the breaking point for paying the higher percentage from $25,000 to $15,000.

No changes were suggested in the 5 to 4 per cent tax on individual earnings.

Synod Nixes 4 Sections Of Document

VATICAN CITY (AP) — The World Synod of Bishops has voted to reject four of five sections of a draft document on social justice.

This was announced today, next-to-last day of the five-week synod and created a confused, last-minute rush for consensus on the two hotly debated themes of the priesthood and justice.

The biannual synod had been forced Thursday to put off a final vote on priesthood because of a row over wording of a paragraph dealing with priestly celibacy.

The bishops had handed in their ballots Thursday on the social justice document. They were told today that only one section—a generally worded conclusion calling on men to imitate Christ—received the necessary majority of 132 votes from the 209-member body.

The rejected sections were an introduction and the following:
—A part calling for redistribution of the world's wealth.
—An appeal for the Church to restyle its image to identify more with the poor.

—A long section detailing how the Church could work with other institutions against social ills.

Rehnquist Clears Hurdle On Road To Court Post

WASHINGTON (AP) — Asst. Atty. Gen. William H. Rehnquist appears to have cleared the first hurdle to Senate confirmation of a seat on the Supreme Court.

Chairman James O. Eastland, D-Miss., of the Senate Judiciary Committee excused Rehnquist Thursday after two days of questioning and said the committee will turn its attention to Lewis F. Powell Jr. when it reconvenes Monday.

Rehnquist and Powell were nominated last month by President Nixon to fill vacancies on the Supreme Court created by the retirement of Justice John M. Harlan and the late Justice Hugo L. Black.

Rehnquist's nomination has drawn criticism from some civil rights organizations and the liberal Americans for Democratic Action.

But Sen. Birch Bayh, D-Ind., who led the successful fight against Nixon's earlier nominations of Clement F. Haynsworth and G. Harrold Carswell, has conceded a majority of the 16-member Judiciary Committee supports Rehnquist. One committee source said he foresees a maximum of five committee votes against Rehnquist and possibly no more than three.

Powell, a Richmond, Va., attorney and former president of the American Bar Association, had been scheduled to appear before the committee Thursday, but the lengthy questioning of Rehnquist forced a delay.

Four Juvenile Cases Heard

Wayne W. Wright, 17, appeared in a recent session of juvenile court and was found guilty of exceeding the 35 mile speed limit on N. Court St. in Circleville. Wright's $15 fine was suspended by the court.

Another traffic charge was filed by city police against Julian D. Parker, 17, of 148 Griner Ave. He was fined $15 and had his driving rights restricted to school work and traffic school for 60 days for making unnecessary noise with his auto.

Local highway patrolmen arrested two teenagers for various traffic charges in Pickaway County. An 18-year-old Canton youth forfeited $20 bond for speeding 90 in a 60 mile zone on Route 23 south of Circleville. Sonny E. Lee, 17, of Washington C. H., was apprehended for speeding on Route 22 after the football game with Circleville Oct. 29. His case was transferred to Fayette County.

Delinquency charges were drawn against a young Derby boy for violating curfew and telephoning a false bomb threat to the Madison Plains High School in December, 1970. The youth pleaded guilty to the charge and his case transferred to Madison County.

A Circleville senior high student was found guilty of truancy and her probation continued by the court.

Bayh told newsmen after the hearing that he felt Rehnquist was more responsive near the end of his testimony than he had been earlier.

He referred specifically to an answer Rehnquist offered to a question by Sen. Charles McC. Mathias, R-Md., about the government's position on its authority to use wiretaps in domestic subversion cases without a court order.

Rehnquist, who previously had been reluctant to testify about advice he had given within the Justice Department, said he had taken the position that it would be a mistake for the government to rely on "an inherent power" to engage in such wiretapping.

Jet Flies 400 Miles

LEMOORE, Calif. (AP) — A Navy jet soared unmaned across 400 miles of Nevada and Utah desert before crashing into a field 15 miles west of Provo, Utah, an official at Lemoore Naval Air Station reported.

The pilot, Lt. J.G. John B. Pianetta, based at Lemoore, ejected accidentally after a bombing exercise near Fallon, Nev., Thursday, the spokesman said. All the bombs had been dropped before the mishap, he added.

Pianetta, 26, of Fremont, Calif., parachuted to safety on the bomb range at Fallon Naval Auxiliary Air Station. He was taken to the state hospital and was reported to be uninjured. The A7E jet continued north, remaining airborne one hour before crashing, the spokesman said.

Pianetta's ejection seat accidentally fired as he was removing a device which covers the cockpit to simulate night flying for an instrument exercise, the spokesman said.

Pianetta is assigned to the 195th Naval Attack Squadron at Lemoore.

SPEAKER — Dan Davis (right) program chairman introduced Dr. Donal O'Leary of the Eastern (Columbus)

WASHINGTON (AP) — While final preparations were being made for a huge nuclear test at Amchitla Island, environmental groups today pinned their hopes of halting the blast on a promised early decision by Chief Justice Warren E. Burger.

The Atomic Energy Commission plans to set off the five-megaton explosion at 5 p.m. EST Saturday, 6,000 feet under the island off the Alaskan coast. The blast will test the hydrogen-bomb warhead of the Spartan antiballistic missile.

Conservation groups opposed to the test, code-named Cannikin, took their plea to Burger Thursday after losing two lower-court attempts to have the test stopped. A high court spokesman said a ruling could be expected today.

Conservationists have cited what they called environmental hazards of the test—the possibility of earthquakes, tidal waves and radiation. The test would be 250 times larger than the blast that leveled Hiroshima and the largest explosion yet set off in the Western world.

The White House Thursday said a careful study of the environmental risks had been made and a decision to proceed was made in the interests of national defense and security.

The appeal to Burger was filed by the Committee for Nuclear Responsibility, one of seven groups opposed to the test, asking that the test be halted, pending a hearing by the full court.

The appeal cited a Court of Appeals ruling that "substantial questions" exist on whether the government complied with the National Environmental Policy Act of 1969, "and whether, accordingly, the action is lawful."

The appeal said the Court of Appeals determined there was not enough time for a "judicial resolution" of the matter. "The result is to permit the carrying out of a federal action whose effect on the environment may be among the most significant in all man's history," the appeal said.

A spokesman for the conservation group had said that if Burger turned down the request without referring it to the full court, group lawyers could then appeal directly to other individual judges.

While 100 members of Canada's Parliament, members of Congress and others protested the test, the White House called the test necessary.

Presidential press secretary Ronald L. Ziegler said Thursday

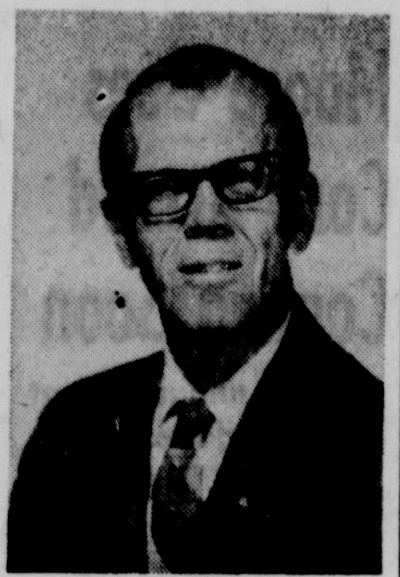

"a most careful study was given to all aspect including day 'a most careful study was given to all aspects including potential environmental risks." Nevertheless, he said, it was decided to proceed with the test because of the overriding interests of national defense and security.

Dutch Stocklen Retires From Electric Company

By DAVE AMEY
Herald Staff Writer

Everett P. (Dutch) Stocklen retired from Columbus and Southern Ohio Electric Oct. 29, ending 42 years and two months of service to the company.

Dutch says he's "seen a lot of changes in the electric field, just like everything else," during his tenure with the organization.

EVERETT STOCKLEN

"Not everyone used electricity when I first started as a meter reader in 1929," he claims. "We'd give customers three free lights if they'd just let us wire their houses, just as a promotional gimmick to get them to try electricity."

"And after that, we'd start promoting electric irons and washing machines. Now almost

JC Members Are Honored

Circleville Jaycee President Jake Bailey gave recognition to several members of the organization who earned distinction in the club during the past quarter.

During the Thursday dinner meeting at Tink's, Bailey stated that the entire club had shown great progress due to the hard work of each individual and through the extra effort of several members.

For their involvement in programs sponsored by the Jaycees, Steve Cherrington, Bruce Bell, Jerry Smith and Jim Reese were recognized. Cherrington served as projects chairman during the past quarter. Bell was given notice as outstanding officer of the club. Smith was honored as outstanding director and Reese as the outstanding Jaycee for the quarter.

Past presidents were presented a plaque recognizing them for their outstanding leadership in the past years. Because of their leadership, Circleville Jaycees have won state-wide recognition. Those presidents listed were "Blue Chip" presidents, signifying award for achievement in the state. Recipients of this honor were Bob Liggett, Tom Elsea, Asa Elsea, Ernie Lindsey and Archie Ward. During Ward's leadership, the chapter received the National Gold Chip Award.

Jay Moore, a teacher at Circleville High School, was inducted as a new member during the meeting.

Farm Bureau Meeting Slated

An important meeting of the Pickaway County Farm Bureau Public Affairs Committee was announced today by chairman Norman Wilson.

The issue at hand is the county-wide masterplan. Special guests will be Curt Dunham, Director of Public Affairs and consultant from the Ohio Farm Bureau Federation.

Dunham will outline steps necessary in getting this type of regional planning into action. The meeting will be held 8 p.m. Monday, at the County Office, 407 E. Main. Public Affairs representatives are urged to be present.

everything in a home is powered by electricity," he added.

STOCKLEN should know. In 1942, he was promoted to customer serviceman. He worked his way up the line to customer serviceman A, and then was named division serviceman.

He was the manager of the Mount St. sub-station at his retirement last week.

The likeable Stocklen says he won't "sit in an easy chair," now that he's retired.

"I plan to work around the house and get some things done I just never had time to do before," he said. He also wants to visit his son and daughters.

It won't be necessary this week, however, as the Stocklen family is together at their 146 E. High St. house.

TWO sons, two daughters, three in-laws and seven grandchildren dropped in on Dutch and his wife to wish them well.

Son Steve is a freshman at Circleville High School. Son Tom and wife returned to Circleville on their way from Michigan to Florida, daughter Ann Langerderfer brought her husband, John, and three children and daughter Susan Gillespie is here with four children and husband William. They are all from Toledo.

Dad Identifies Girl's Body

CINCINNATI (AP) — With the aid of scientific slide projections at the Hamilton County Coroners office, a Highland Heights, Ky., father was able to identify the body of his missing daughter Thursday night.

Billy Joe Spegal, who could not positively identify the body earlier, Thursday night confirmed it was that of Cheryl Spegal, 10, missing since Oct. 19.

He was able to make the identification on the basis of slides prepared by Hamilton County Coroner Dr. Frank Cleveland projecting the facial profile, teeth pattern and other characteristics of the girl.

The body was found last week under a pile of rocks beneath a culvert on U.S. 27 in Pendleton County, Ky. Police said the girl had been assaulted and stabbed numerous times.

She disappeared while walking to her school bus stop on a foggy morning. Police had no leads to the identity of the killer.

AFC Buys Insurance Company

CINCINNATI (AP) — American Financial Corp. Thursday acquired the Selective Insurance Co. for $11 million, the second insurance firm it purchased in three months.

Selective Insurance was a Cincinnati fire and casualty firm originally sponsored by The Kroger Co. It had assets in excess of $25 million.

AFC, a Cincinnati-based holding company, purchased the Agricultural Insurance Co. of Watertown, N. Y., in August with $80 million in assets.

Carl H. Lindner AFC president and board chairman, said the acquisitions were in line with his firm's philosophy of "operating diversified financial companies and providing financial services and money management."

The latest purchase was made from the Beneficial Standard Corp. and is subject to approval by regulatory agency officials.

AFC's other companies include The Provident Bank of Cincinnati, Liberty Mortgage Insurance Co., American Financial Leasing & Services, Hunter Savings Association, United Liberty Insurance, The Cincinnati Enquirer, American Continental Homes and numerous smaller holdings.

AFC now has fire and casualty insurance assets in excess of $115 million, the firm announced.

Cable Television

Cable television companies, which have been madly wiring up the country in the last five years, are operating in something approaching a legal limbo.

Community antenna television (CATV, for those who read acronyms) is actually twice-regulated — from the top by the Federal Communications Commission, and at the bottom by whatever local government grants a particular firm a franchise.

But far from being overgoverned, cable TV firms actually operate almost without restraint, for the FCC oriented toward regular television, attempts only to set standards for quality, both of signal and programming, and so far "is still drawing up a set of comprehensive rules."

And at the bottom, the situation can best be described as Balkanized. A local government is interested mainly — make that only in most cases — in the lucrative franchise fees it gets from the operator. In some cases it also gets some control over the firm's operating methods and rates, but this is uncommon.

But cable television systems are not all sweetness and light. Cable television franchises are, by definition, monopolies, with all the dangers inherent.

It is open to question whether a cable TV firm is actually a public utility, in the usual sense of the word, since it is merely an alternative to the antenna on the roof.

Pentagon Papers

Copying machines, as anyone working in an office possessing one knows, are a convenience. They also may be, like the computer, a major employer of people. The Pentagon, for example, has discovered where that famous mountain of red tape, regulations and orders — in quadruplicate—is coming from.

A survey of the Pentagon's paper structure has revealed about 100 million copies of material flowing from its copying machines annually. In the offices immediately below the Joint Chiefs of Staff, 27 machines have been found churning out 875,000 copies a month, at a cost of $4,600 a month.

That is the cost of operating the machines and does not include related costs. Such items as the labor of workers employed to work the machines, the labor and overhead involved in distribution of all those copies, the file cabinets to keep them in, and the administrative personnel required to see the paper flow is not interrupted.

Not to mention the cost of all those waste baskets, which are the eventual recipients of much of the output.

Price Rise Slowed

Government figures showing the rate of increase in the cost of living has been halved since the inception of the price freeze are good news. Increases must of course be halted before costs can be cut, thus making reductions in consumer prices possible.

"Buyers' strikes" have been effective several times in years past in bringing about lower price. A surprising feature of recent decades of inflation is that no real buyer resistance developed.

Everyone seemed to have visions of getting rich by charging money for good or services.

If the impression continues to grow that those crazy years now belong to the past and cannot be revived, the job of returning sanity to the economy will be made easier.

The inflation psychology must be deflated to an extent it has not yet been.

Laff-A-Day

"Anybody interested in the Dow-Jones averages?"

The Business World

By JOHN CUNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — At the very time the administration is attempting to accelerate the economy, the semi-autonomous Federal Reserve Board is shutting off the fuel, or the money supply, official figures show.

The puzzling behavior, which is antagonistic to the goals toward which the President has asked sacrifices of all segments of the economy, has brought about an actual shrinkage of the money supply. Financial analysts here attribute some of the stock market's sharp decline to the lack of investment funds. They add that a continuation of tight money could stall a decline in interest rates and subdue economic confidence also.

The Fed describes its role as the fostering of "a flow of credit and money that will facilitate orderly economic growth, a stable dollar, and long-run balance in our international payments."

Figures show, however, that in the weeks of Oct. 15 and 22 the money supply declined on an annual percentage basis after having grown at more than 13 per cent during some previous weeks.

The abrupt policy change came in the week after the President announced his new economic plan.

Each week thereafter the growth in the supply of money—currency in circulation, plus checking accounts—lessened until the flow went into reverse in the week ending Oct. 15.

The shrinkage is largely the result of actions by the Fed's Open Market Committee, made up of the seven members of the Board of Governors and the presidents of five regional Federal Reserve banks. It meets regularly in Washington to decide the makeup of the system's securities portfolio.

When the Fed buys securities, mainly those of the U.S. government, it has the effect of creating bank reserves, thus permitting the nation's banks to make loans and other investments.

The result, in the Fed's own words, "affects indirectly every phase of American enterprise and commerce and every person in the United States."

This is not the first time that Fed activities have run counter to a President's goals.

Speaking Of Your Health

By Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

We are losing our minds because our father, who is 82 years old, simply cannot remember a thing from minute to minute.

Our whole family is irritable with him although we know it is not his fault.

Can anything be done to help him and us?

Mrs. L. H. Ga. Dear Mrs. H.: One of the unhappy consequences of old age in some people is memory loss, especially the memory of recent events.

It is astonishing how often these same people can recall most minute details of events many years past.

One cause is known. That is the narrowing of the blood vessels to the brain and to the memory center.

Research scientists have produced many new ideas and some chemicals which may help return lost memory.

It takes a great deal of time to cope with this situation which is, as you say, patience and understanding clearly not your father's fault.

In such trying times children would do well to recall the patience and understanding shown them during their own childhood, by these same parents.

Your father deserves every concentrated effort which will make him less aware of this penalty for advancing years.

My husband becomes an Indianapolis race track driver with a few beers under his belt. After parties on two occasions we almost got killed.

He is unreasonable at these times. I don't want him to drive, alone so I go along with him, hoping to control him.

How can I handle this awful situation?

Mrs. D. H. Tenn. Dear Mrs. H.:

Your life, your husband's and many other lives are threatened by such irresponsible behavior.

Catastrophic penalties are paid by the innocent for the recklessness of some drivers. This includes those who are drunk, those who are emotionally unstable, and those who are under the influence of drugs and even certain prescribed medicines.

It is my firm belief that the automobile must be considered a loaded lethal weapon when it is used by anyone not in complete control of his physical and emotional faculties.

Legislation is under consideration in many states which would permanently withhold a driver's license from anyone with a history of physical and emotional problems reducing the normal reflexes.

Your individual problem can only be handled by avoiding the parties and not driving to them.

Many people forget that antihistamines, tranquilizing drugs, cold tablets, sedatives, and some stimulating drugs can interfere with driving skills and safe judgment.

"I'm sorry" is an inadequate answer for death or permanent injury caused by selfish irresponsibility.

Indict Policemen In Payoff Probe

NEW YORK (AP) — Separate federal grand juries have indicted eight present and former policemen on charges of protecting a gambling ring and two narcotics policemen on charges of providing heroin to addicts in exchange for goods.

A Manhattan federal grand jury Wednesday accused patrolmen Michael Masone Jr. and Robinson Haden of trading small amounts of heroin for a power saw and 11 bottles of liquor.

U.S. Atty. Whitney North Seymour called the indictments "the first installment of federal action" resulting from the recent public hearing into police corruption.

Price Freeze Hits Tooth Loss Rate

WEST PLAINS, Mo. (AP) — The way Randy Patterson saw it, the fact that he had lost his tooth in a football game entitled him to some extra compensation from the tooth fairy.

Randy, 7, so advised the fairy in a note placed with the tooth under his pillow. What he had in mind, he said, was some "folding money."

Under the pillow the next morning, Randy found just a quarter and a note which read: "Sorry, President Nixon's price freeze is in effect until Nov. 13."

Did Nixon Bury Himself?

By JOHN CHAMBERLAIN
President Nixon expressed his dismay and disgust at the little war dance staged by some of our supposed friends at the UN after the Taiwan vote had gone so disastrously against us. But just what did he expect?

Who, in the world beyond our shores, has even a shred of respect left for us? The British? We let them down in the first Suez crisis back in 1956. The French? De Gaulle reportedly took our number because he was dismayed when we failed to go through with what we had sanctioned at the Bay of Pigs in Cuba. The West Germans? They turned to Willy Brandt's "Ostpolitik" only after we had talked incessantly about "bridge building" to the east. (Indeed, Willi Schlamm, who returned to Europe after serving as publisher Harry Luce's foreign affairs adviser at Time, Inc., and who has good sources inside the West German government, tells me it would have required just one word from Nixon to keep Willy Brandt from embarking on the Eastward Ho adventure that threatens to destroy NATO.)

The North Koreans, who flouted us at the Panmunjom "peace" talks and later seized the Pueblo, know us for the patsy that we are. Hanoi, which has taken a dreadful licking in South Vietnam, holds on to its imprisoned Americans in full confidence that we will throw away at the diplomatic table. In Thailand, Foreign Minister Thanat Khomn shakes his head sadly to our unwillingness to use our power on behalf of our little allies.

And what must Israel's Golda Meir be thinking? We did not scruple to withhold Phantom planes in an effort to force Israel to accept a "com-politik" only after we had promised favorable to the Arabs on the issue of reopening the Suez Canal. But at the same time our representatives at the UN were piously deploring any mention of using our economic power to sway the vote on the "two-China" question. In short, we have looked like hypocrites as well as weaklings.

The conservatives (and I spoke with many of them on the morning after the UN China vote) are mad clean through at what they consider to have been our shilly-shally conduct of the "two-China" strategy. Why, so they are asking, did Nixon send Henry Kissinger to Peking on the very eve of the UN vote? Symbolically, this could only have been interpreted as a signal that we cared far more for placating Red China than we did for the fate of Taiwan.

And why did Nixon leave it to UN Ambassador George Bush and Secretary of State William Rogers to make all the statements on the "dangerous" precedent involved in expelling a well-behaved UN member? A direct vote to our "allies" from the White House would have carried much greater weight.

Professor David Rowe of Yale, an authority on China (he was born in Nanking) who organized the National Council of Scholars to support Nixon in 1968, has announced that he has broken completely with Richard Nixon and will do anything to help beat him in 1972. Other conservatives are more cautious in their maneuvers, but what they are doing could be cumulative disaster for the Republicans.

The New York group that follows Publisher Bill Rusher of National Review has hired Jerry Harkins, a professional campaign manager, to test the ground to see how an anti-Nixon Republican might fare in primaries in New Hampshire and Florida.

There are many movements afoot on both sides of Capitol Hill to cut down or to eliminate financial support of UN agencies. George Wallace has promised a rousing speech on the China issue in Los Angeles on November 6; as a Populist and racist radical, Wallace may not commend himself to conservatives, but if he can get big money by opposing Nixon's foreign adventures he could take crucial states away from the Republicans in the South.

The only way Nixon can recoup is to get something ponderable for the U.S. at his Moscow and Peking "summits." He had better carry in his wallet for continuous inspection a little statement made by the Chinese Communists on October 17, 1945.

"Some comrades," so the statement reads, "can't understand why we should be willing to negotiate with Chiang Kai-shek, who has always been anti-Communist . . . Was our Party right or wrong in deciding at the Seventh Congress that we were willing to negotiate with the Kuomintang, providing they changed their policies? It was absolutely right."

Substitute the name of Richard Nixon for Chiang Kai-shek, the U. S. for the Kuomintang, in that 26-year-old statement, and you can see what Mao Tse-tung is after. Richard Nixon is going to have to "change policies" to get an agreement, and then what will he have?

Republicans made a clean sweep in the 1946 general election in Pickaway County, the first postwar general election. The total vote was 8,398, a figure which doubled the 1945 voter tally. Republicans who defeated their opponents for office locally were: County Commissioner Lyman Penn, county auditor Fred L. Tipton, Dr. Lloyd Jones, coroner with 366 write-in votes.

Tom Herbert got Pickaway County's strongest vote for governor, while the area gave all other Republicans the vote in state and federal offices.

According To Boyle

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — "Dear Poor Man's Philosopher:

"I am a young man going with a nice girl who wants me to marry her. I am not against marriage itself, but my girl is a strong believer in the Women's Liberation Movement, and I'm afraid I'll wind up hen-pecked and dominated."

"What should I do?" "Perplexed." Dear Perplexed: What should you do? Why, marry the young lady, of course.

There are thousands—perhaps hundreds of thousands—of young men in America today who feel themselves in the same plight you do.

But your fears are groundless. The Women's Liberation Movement should not be looked upon with dread and suspicion by men. It should instead be greeted with open arms and glad cries. For it may result in the greatest advancement of men in the history of human relations.

It is his unwillingness to treat woman as his equal that has enchaind man for centuries. Instead he treated her as either a child or a goddess and alternately pampered or idolized her.

What a cushy place the world became for a smart woman. She could throw a tantrum and get her way or stand on her pedestal and demand man's groveling worship.

In time the legend spread that women were dainty defenseless flowers to be guarded against all possible dangers and treated with a host of foolish and unnecessary courtesies. The legend also grew up that women were romantic-hearted and too flighty to deal with money matters.

What a fraud, palmed off on bumbling man by women themselves!

The average woman, as every other woman knows, has the heart of a tigress and the mind of a steel trap.

But now, for a reason known only to themselves, women want to dress, act, and work like men and to be treated as their equals. They want to step off their protected pedestals and go into the marketplace.

One wonders what the advantage to them is unless they wish to work themselves to death at an earlier age—just like men.

But what a lucky break it is for a sensible young man. As his bride strives more and more to be like him, he can warily become more and more like she used to be—and perhaps in time climb up on the pedestal she deserted.

Yes, young man, let Mildred get the ulcer in the family. All you have to do is pat her on the back every morning and give her a lollipop on her birthday, and she'll purr like a kitten.

Any man who fights women's liberation is fighting against his own.

Vending machines around the world served an estimated $8.5 billion worth of food items in 1970.

The Five Points United Methodist Social Hour Club met at the church basement Friday evening for their October meeting. A lovely covered dish supper preceded the meeting. Roll call was answered by eleven members giving their favorite Bible verse. Mrs. Francis Furniss, secretary, gave the report of the last meeting and read a "Thank You" note from Clarence Finch for the flowers and cards he received while he was in the hospital. Mrs. Clark Dennis, treasurer, gave the financial report and Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Finch, Francis Furniss and Clark Dennis paid birthday dues.

The program opened with Helen Phillips reading "God's Handiwork" and Mrs. Elbee Jones read, "Teach Me to See" followed by group singing, "My Faith Looks Up to Thee." Belgians Expel 30 Russians

BRUSSELS (AP) — The Belgian government has decided to expel or bar from Belgium more than 30 Soviet citizens named as spies by defector Anatol Tchekotarev, an informed source reported today.

About a third of the Soviets have already left the country, the source said. He predicted there would be no sudden mass expulsion, as there was recently in Britain; instead, diplomats and trade representatives would be asked to leave in small groups.

They would all be gone "within a reasonable time," the source said. This would reduce the number of adult Soviet males in Belgium by more than a fourth.

The Foreign Ministry declined to comment.

Tchekotarev, 38, was a counselor at the Soviet Trade Mission in Brussels a few doors from the U.S. Embassy. He disappeared Oct. 3 in a car belonging to his mission. Later it was announced that he was in the United States. The list of names he furnished was transmitted to Belgium by the U.S. government, the source said.

One reason the Belgian government is playing down the case is that the North Atlantic alliance, which has its headquarters in Brussels, has given Belgium the job of arranging the first talks with the Soviet Union on troop reductions in Europe. Foreign Minister Pierre Harmel is reported reluctant to take a strong stand for fear of hampering the prospective negotiations.

Transport Report Set

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Ohio Transportation Advisory Committee, which a spokesman says has been functioning as "sort of a think tank" until now, is expected to start putting together a final report in about two weeks.

Subcommittee findings should be wrapped up in that time, said Dave Pildas, committee spokesman.

The committee is charged with preparing legislation for the General Assembly to create a state Department of Transportation to supplant the current Department of Highways.

Pildas said one subcommittee has decided that the new department should be responsible for statewide transportation planning involving all modes of transportation, including such things as pipelines, in order to achieve its goals.

Another has tentatively found that it would not be feasible to levy a property tax on vehicles and increase registration and title transfer tax fees.

NFO Urges Corn Storage

Don Conrad, National Farmer Organization chairman of Pickaway County, said today that feed grain prices will drop to even lower levels unless farmers make use of every possibility for putting their production in storage.

"With prices now at less than cost of production we must do more than we've ever done before to avoid dumping grain on the market and to head off further declines," he said.

"Farmers should make use of all available programs, government and otherwise, to store as much of their corn, milo, wheat, barley and oats as they possibly can."

Conrad said farmers are in a position to build a market for feed grains by working together and keeping control of their products until higher prices can be negotiated to offset higher costs of production.

Three market-building possibilities, he said, are available to all farmers in Pickaway County:

—Use all available on-the-farm facilities to store feed grains and add capacity as needed with government financing arranged through local ASCS offices.

—Store in elevators, ASCS bin sites, and warehouses wherever available, obtaining warehouse receipts as collateral for loans from bank or the government through local ASCS offices.

—Block feed grains in inventory with other farmers through NFO for nationwide bargaining and for negotiating high price levels.

Conrad said all three approaches make it possible for farmers to obtain loans on their feed grains, either from the government or a lending institution, and to be in a position to market it at a higher price later on.

"This allows farmers to maintain control of grain normally dumped on the market at harvest time," Conrad said.

"It doesn't make sense for farmers to stand by while the trade buys up grain at low prices during harvest and then joins the government in dumping enough on the market the rest of the year to keep prices cheap."

Charge 2 More In Murder Case

MANCHESTER, Ky. (AP) — A Manchester attorney and another man have been added to the list of persons charged with murder in Tuesday's shooting of an election judge at the Goose Rock polling place.

Officials said Thursday night that Creed Smith, 36, brother of a man previously charged in the case, and attorney R. Clepus Maricle were arrested. John Mills, 74, was killed and the Democratic judge, James Smith, 39, was wounded "in some sort of difference" in or near a voting booth Tuesday, Clay County Commonwealth's Atty. Paul Heitronymus said.

James Smith and George Duff, of near Manchester, in his 40s, previously were charged with murder in the case.

New Weapon For Army: Plain Old Friendliness

FT. KNOX, Ky. (AP) — The commanding general here has developed a new weapon for the Army: just plain friendliness.

"The whole idea is just to get people thinking, to treat others with courtesy and respect," said Maj. Gen. William R. Desobry.

Desobry said that approximately $2,000 worth of signs and decals and bumper stickers have been passed out on the post.

They carry such slogans as "Courtesy is Contagious," and "It's Fun To Be Friendly."

Blame Fire For Death Of Woman

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — A minor nursing home fire in suburban Oregon this morning apparently contributed to the death of a 92-year-old resident and forced evacuation of 67 others, fire officials reported.

Stella Mitchell, 92, collapsed and died during the fire. Both firemen and nursing home officials attributed her death to excitement caused by the blaze.

One other resident was treated at a local hospital for minor injuries. Firemen said the fire started in clothing piled on a sewing machine in the basement of the one-story brick structure, then spread through a clothes chute to a rest room. Damage was estimated at $200.

Three fire departments responded to the blaze. Nursing home officials said four fire drills had been held this week, and the structure was evacuated within a few minutes.

Traffic Safety Engineer Named For Division 6

Bernard Hurst, division deputy director for Division Six of the Ohio Department of Highways, has announced the assignment of Andris Zarins, Columbus, as assistant division traffic engineer for safety under the Ohio Highway Safety Program.

Zarins, a civil engineering graduate of the Ohio State University, began his engineering career with the highway department in May 1967. Most recently he has served in the Division Six location and design section.

The Ohio Highway Safety Program is the major new traffic safety program aimed at reducing the number of accidents and fatalities on Ohio's highways. Funded under the Federal Highway Safety Act of 1966, the program is designed to correct deficiencies in the areas of identification and surveillance of accident locations and engineering services. The act provides for the hiring and training of traffic engineers who will spend approximately 40 per cent of the time with local communities to assist them in setting up local programs.

This will be the first time the state has provided engineering expertise for the local political subdivisions. The other 60 per cent of the engineer's time will be spent investigating high-frequency accident locations on the rural state highway system, identified by the state's Bureau of Traffic.

The primary goal of the program is the identification, investigation and correction of high-frequency accident locations on all roads and streets in Ohio.

Once you've slept on a Beautyrest Back Care I...

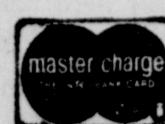

a regular firm
mattress
will feel like this.

Yes it's true! A regular firm mattress will feel "boardy." A "boardy" mattress doesn't adjust to body contours, it restricts circulation around hips and shoulders, causing discomfort and excessive movement. Improper support of spine—improper rest. Beautyrest Back Care I is different. First, Beautyrest Back Care I has almost three times as many coils as an ordinary mattress. More coils to give more support. Beautyrest individually pocketed coils. Each coil is free to separately and firmly support your back or sides. Body fitting firmness gives proper support. Beautyrest Back Care I has exclusive Simplex cushioning, a non-allergenic material. It molds itself to your body—cradles you over the flexibly firm coils below. Beautyrest Back Care I has an exclusive quilted cover exclusively treated with Scotchgard® to resist soil, watery and oily stains. All this adds up to the firm support you need for better rest.

NEW YORK (AP) — During the past quarter of a century, network television has developed its own institutions, and one of them for westerners is the Big Poker Game.

It is an annual event on most of them, so ABC's "Alias Smith and Jones" went to work on poker Thursday night. As TV poker games go, this one was a washout, in spite of the $112,000 stakes and presence of one of the former Maverick brothers.

While one cold spell chilled the Eastern Seaboard today, an even colder air mass rolled into the Northern Plains.

Temperatures moderated somewhat in the nation's mid-section in Montana the mercury dived into the teens and lower following highs Thursday in the 60s.

Showers and thunderstorms soaked southern Florida. A record rainfall for November was reached in Palm Beach, Fla., where more than 9 inches of rain have fallen so far this month.

Temperatures before dawn ranged from 77 at Key West and Vero Beach, Fla., to 11 at Cut Bank, Mont.

CIRCLEVILLE

SUPER DUPER OPEN SUNDAY

10 to 6 Week Days 9 to 9

Older viewers remember that "Maverick" specialized in poker, but usually with some interesting, light switch, "Alias Smith and Jones" started on a bright, light note last season, but has become ham-handed this year. Thursday night's poker game was done so poorly that the only way the viewer could identify the winner was to watch who grabbed for the pot.

Jack Kelly, busy recently hosting a daytime game show, was back at the card table. It has been a long time since he was playing one of the jaunty Maverick brothers and his hand has obviously lost its skill. Playing a disreputable cow-town doctor, he was the heavy loser.

Kelly's former acting partner in "Maverick," James Garner, is not faring much better in his NBC series, also on view Thursday. The script of his show also involved gambling, but this time it was baseball and pretty much of a bore.

Garner's new series, a big disappointment, has recently been given a tonic to try to help its ratings: NBC changed its name from "Nichols" to "James Garner as Nichols" in the hope that the star's name would attract viewers who have been passing it by.

As a comedy, it doesn't work well. The humor is forced and broad, the characters burlesques. Garner, who handles light comedy deftly in theatrical films, is so bereft of good material that he comes over as a bit of a boob.

The big scene in the most recent episode was the baseball game which had a lot of money riding on the outcome. It was awkwardly, even amateurishly, patched together.

CBS is likely to do considerable program switching on its Thursday night schedule after the first of the year. "Bearcats" is a weak show made even weaker by the competition from NBC's popular Flip Wilson and is almost certain to disappear soon.

Possible candidates for the "Bearcats" spot are a new Don Rickles series and something called "My Chimp and I."

Pickaway Grange Report

STAR GRANGE

A Halloween Parade highlighted the meeting of Star Grange when they met Tuesday evening in the Monroe School auditorium for their regular meeting. The Worthy Master Harold Furniss presided over the business meeting.

"Thank You" notes were read from Mr. Otha Lewis and Mrs. E. L. Sheets for cards and flowers sent to them while they were in the hospitals. An appeal for aid was answered and it was announced that Pomona Grange will be held on Saturday Nov. 6 at the 4-H and Grange building and will be an all day meeting.

Mrs. Paul Dawson, County Junior Deputy was present and reported on the State Grange Convention and announced that the sewing contest will have to be early next year but the baking contest will be later as usual. She also announced that Dec. 15 will be the delegates report of the State Convention. Mrs. Wilbur Beathard received a ribbon for her splendid report of the Woman's Activity Committee.

The Grange voted favorably of contributing a sum of money to Berger Hospital. Miss Florence Long is a medical patient in University Hospital. Worthy Deputy Paul Dunkle and mother Mrs. Eloise Dunkle were guests at the meeting and served as judges for the Halloween Parade. Helen Hammel was judged the most original, as Miss Pumpkin Show. Fran Follrod as the prettiest and Jim Beathard as the funniest.

Mrs. Paul Dawson, Worthy Lecturer opened her program, "Halloween is Here" with a reading "Halloween Carpet" by Harold Furniss. The group sang Halloween is Here to the tune of Merryly We Roll Along. Paul Dunkle guessed the nearest to the number of candy corn in a jar and Jim Beathard won in a candy bar contest over Robert Morgan. Fran Follrod gave a humorous reading "Whose Afraid?" and Helen Hammel closed the program with a piano solo, "Autumn Leaves." Seasonal refreshments were served by Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Michel, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Smith, Mr. and Mrs. William Davis, and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Moore.

Mrs. Helen Hammel invited the members of Star Grange to a recital at Capital University given by Patty Schleich on Nov. 3 at 8:15 p.m. The next regular meeting will be held Nov. 9 and all members are urged to attend. The program will be presented by the members who did not wear a Halloween costume at the last meeting.

Horoscope Forecast

By Carroll Righter

SATURDAY'S HOROSCOPE
GENERAL TENDENCIES: Until noon very adverse aspects are in effect so make sure you take no chances. Make a special note to sidestep whatever battles or arguments arise. The latter part of the day is then unusually good for whatever has to do with home, family, property and possessions and especially where art, color, culture enter the picture.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) The afternoon is the best time to talk over whatever problems need handling at home with kin, servants. A morning to get business handled well and to get control of yourself. The evening will then be ideal.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) If you have to drive on the highway during the morning, exercise much care and avoid possible accident. Get shopping done well. Talk over the future with partners in the mid-afternoon.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Monetary affairs look bad to you in the morning but by talking them over with expert later, they improve quickly. Strive for greater security by being practical and alert. Have happiness with mate in the evening.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) The morning finds you puzzled just how to take care of some personal problem, but later all works to your advantage. Plan to be with people you like after the day's work. Show you are a charming companion.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Conditions around you are hardly ideal in the morning, but later they improve considerably.

Coal Mine Blast Said Deliberate

NEW LEXINGTON, Ohio (AP) — Perry County Sheriff Tom Wilson said an explosion that caused extensive damage to the Star Coal Co. complex near here Thursday night appeared to have been "labor related."

He did not elaborate, except to say the explosion was believed to have been caused by dynamite either placed or thrown against the office building.

The frame building, a truck scales and a gasoline pump were destroyed in the explosion.

Wilson said there was no fire following the blast and no one was injured.

There was no immediate estimates of damage. Company officials could not be reached for comment.

Operations at the non-union mine had resumed Wednesday after a work stoppage begun Oct. 1 because of a nationwide soft coal miners' strike by the United Mine Workers Union.

Wilson said his department is investigating the incident, but there have been no arrests.

The mine is located between the towns of Shawnee and McCuneville in southern Perry County.

ably. Expert gives you the right advice which you must follow to get good results. Much fun is possible this evening.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) You want to be alone during the morning, but later become very gregarious and much to your benefit. Be sure you know what it is you want to accomplish. Then go after aims in a most positive fashion.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Wait until after lunch before asking a big favor from a higher-up you find amenable to your suggestions today. Do some serious talking and studying before you handle that civic matter of importance and you get right results.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Morning does not bring the results you want and requires a little diversion and then all works to your benefit, starting after lunch. Correspondence will gain you the benefits you desire also in due course of time. Keep active.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Although you want to have a good time, it is best to relegate this to the evening since you have important obligations to meet during the day. The best time for serious talk with mate is after lunch. Get to bed early tonight.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Daytime is not good for discussing differences with an associate, so wait until the evening when tempers have cooled off. Later in the day is better for handling some civic matter, also. Get busy at important work in the morning when mind is rested.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Ideal day to get into all of those tasks that are difficult to perform during a busy work week. Later, get out and add new articles to your present wardrobe. Plan time for getting health improved, too.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Morning is best time for work that needs to be done since later you can enjoy the recreations that most appeal to you without worry. Buy some thoughtful gift for your mate. Reach a finer understanding with everyone.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY ... he or she will be one of those highly sensitive young people who could be upset easily if you do not give the right diet early in life and the right spiritual training that will make your progeny the wonderful person he or she is and can be. Let the discipline be of the loving kind so that independence will be learned early and then there will be brilliance in this chart, whether in business or in creative, artistic outlets.

Sniper Turns Gun On Self After 2-Hour Confrontation

CARLSBAD, N.M. (AP) — For two hours, 23-year-old Michael O'Hearn was holed up in a school building tower, taking potshots with a rifle.

"He kept saying 'I'm in trouble and I can't come down,'" said Sheriff Tom Granger, who tried to talk O'Hearn down from the three-story tower.

What was troubling O'Hearn, a former mental patient, may remain a mystery.

The last shot O'Hearn took with the 30-30 rifle claimed his own life.

O'Hearn fired an estimated 20 shots during the ordeal but the most serious reported injury to those outside the tower was a slight arm wound to a deputy sheriff.

"There's a man upstairs with a gun," Jeanette Methola screamed Wednesday as she ran into the office of Asst. Principal Joe Stell.

Carrying a gunnysack with the 30-30 rifle protruding from the top and carrying a .22 automatic, O'Hearn had entered Carlsbad Mid High School and gone to the second floor.

He went into the class of Mrs. Harold Olive and demanded a key to the tower. Mrs. Olive wrote a note and told Jeanette to take it to the office.

After haggling with Stell and Principal Merl Anderson, O'Hearn had the door to the tower unlocked. Anderson asked O'Hearn "very politely" to go inside and closed and locked the door.

School officials called the police, who blocked off streets in the area and ordered people out of sight.

From the tower of the junior high school building O'Hearn had a clear view through windows from all four sides.

Sheriff Granger eventually was able to get close to O'Hearn.

"We talked about 10 minutes and then he told me to leave," the sheriff said.

"There was no indication he would come down. If there had been, I guess we'd still be talking."

As Granger was leaving he pulled the pin on a tear gas grenade and tossed it at O'Hearn.

The young man retaliated by shooting back at officers on the second floor roof before fatally wounding himself in the throat.

Officials say he was a Vietnam veteran discharged from the Navy in 1966 for mental reasons and that he later was a patient at the state mental hospital.

O'Hearn was single. He recently had returned to Carlsbad but he became very depressed when he couldn't find work, friends said.

Perk Says He'll Stop Housing Plan

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Ralph Perk says one of his first acts after he takes office Monday as mayor of Cleveland will be to revoke one of the last acts of outgoing Mayor Carl

Stokes—issuance of permits for a public housing project on the West Side.

The Stokes Administration issued 114 permits one week ago today for the Green Valley Estates, a $3.3 million development planned at Schaaf and Van Eppe roads in the south-western part of the city.

Stokes has pushed public housing projects during his four years as mayor, and this brought him into conflict with councilmen and neighborhood groups on several occasions.

Councilman Richard Harms, in whose ninth ward the Green Valley project would go, said there was "no question" that issuance of the permits Thursday helped Perk.

"Residents of the ward were up in arms over the action in the last hours of the Stokes administration," he said. West Side Councilman Dennis Kucinich, who headed the Democrats for Perk campaign, said the last-minute permits "were obviously an attempt to oppose the wishes of the residents."

Perk said during his campaign he would put public housing units in wards where the people want them and would not force them on neighborhoods that don't want them.

Perk, a Republican, drew unexpected support from West Side wards which have been strongly Democratic in recent years. Some of Perk's biggest gains were in wards where public housing battles have been fought by the Stokes Administration.

Asks Transfer

To Female Prison

MADISON, Wis. (AP) — A state penitentiary inmate, declaring "enforced sexual segregation" violates his religious freedom, has asked a U.S. district court to order his transfer to the Wisconsin Home for Women at Taycheedah.

Robert McGregor, 40, serving a 10-year term at Waupun State Prison for car theft and robbery, said in a petition filed Wednesday he has a Biblical mission to "be fruitful and multiply and replenish the earth."

DREAMS ARE THE DAWN OF TOMORROW

And like the first light of a new day they seem distant, unreal. Yet out of our dreams we often fashion tomorrow.

The dreams of the daylight hours are not in the subconscious. Rather they project our hopes on a screen of reality. They grow into goals and aims and ambitions.

Whether tomorrow will fulfill those dreams depends on certain values which must be acquired today. Ideals, standards, moral principles, religious faith — these inspire dreams worth dreaming, and help us to translate them to reality.

Never worry about your daughter's daydreaming. Be concerned about her opportunities for spiritual development. The Church shares that concern. It can help you do something constructive about it.

6-Year-Low Combat Toll Fails To Count 4 Deaths

SAIGON (AP) — The U.S. Command's weekly casualty summary Thursday said only two Americans were reported killed in action last week in Vietnam, the lowest total since March 1965.

Judge Eyes 4 Seasons Revamping

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — U.S. Dist. Court Judge Luther Bohanon took under advisement Thursday a proposed reorganization plan for the financially troubled Four Seasons Nursing Centers of American and six related companies.

Judge Bohanon closed a hearing on the plan after presentation of a series of amendments by attorneys. The hearing began last Monday.

One of the major proposals heard Thursday was an amendment to allow anyone holding shares in the Four Seasons companies before Sept. 30, 1971, to buy shares in the reorganized firm at a fixed price of $5 a share. No new stock would be issued, but stock from creditors, who are to receive shares to satisfy their claims, would be sold to current stockholders.

Attorneys for the state of Ohio, which has a $4 million claim against Four Seasons, protested the proposal, saying the Ohio Constitution prohibits the state from owning stock in a private company and they would be forced into an immediate sale, probably at an additional loss.

Judge Bohanon said he will review the reorganization plan and when he is satisfied with its wording, it will be forwarded to the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission for its approval. The judge did not indicate when he would approve or disapprove the reorganization proposal.

day night that the total of American battlefield deaths last week was the lowest since the United States assumed a combat role in Vietnam in March 1965. Apparently no one warned him about the vagaries of the reporting system.

The U.S. Command also announced that 63 Americans were wounded in action last week, 21 fewer than the week before. Another 19 died from accidents or illness, the Command said, 13 less than the total of deaths from nonhostile causes in the previous week.

Fewer South Vietnamese and enemy casualties also were reported last week. South Vietnamese headquarters said 269 government troops were killed and 562 were wounded, compared with 394 killed and 700 wounded a week earlier.

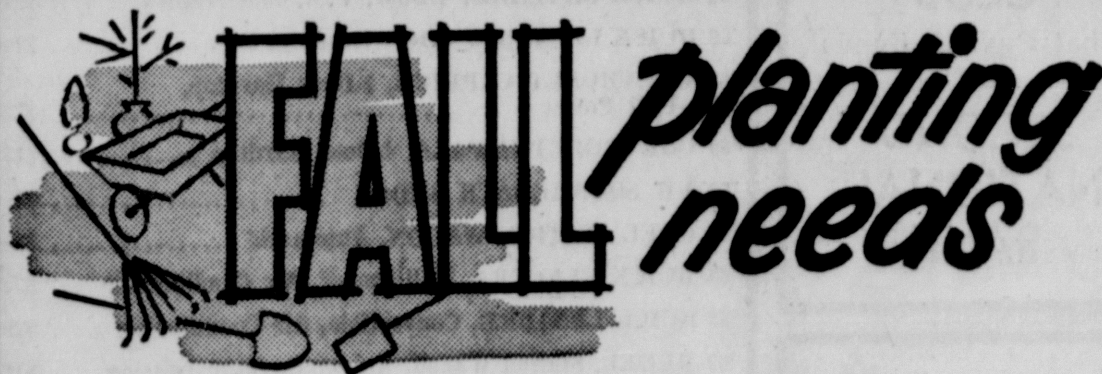

The two allied commands claimed 1,058 North Vietnamese and Viet Cong killed last week, compared with 1,284 the week before.

The allied commands now have reported these total casualties for the war:

American—45,586 killed in action, 302,167 wounded, 9,879 dead from nonhostile causes. South Vietnamese—135,279 killed, 293,177 wounded. North Vietnamese and Viet Cong—780,632 killed.

Teach Skills In Reading To Youth

MRS. SUE SCHIFF
Reading Teacher

By CRAIG ALLISON

Mound Street Elementary School is aided this year by special reading teacher Sue Schiff. Mrs. Schiff is a 1967 graduate of Circleville High School and a 1971 graduate of Ohio State University. Her husband is presently a student at OSU. They now reside in Columbus.

Mrs. Schiff has always wanted to be a teacher and try to help children achieve something and she lists these reasons for pursuing a teaching career.

In her spare time she likes to sew, play the piano and refinish furniture.

Mrs. Schiff thinks Circleville has a fine school system and that it is easy to work in.

Boosters Give Teams Backing

By LISA WILLIAMS

Have you ever wondered where the football, basketball, or baseball teams, or for that matter any athletic team would be without their athletic supporters?

Approximately thirty-five years ago this was a problem that needed to be solved.

The CHS football team was playing Chillicothe and they were expecting one of their biggest crowds. Extra seats were put at each endzone and there were still people standing completely around the field.

This motivated about seven men who felt there was no reason why there could not be some form of help for the school's athletes. The following week a meeting was held to organize the Booster Club and the officers were elected.

Then, Lawrence Davis and John Noggle got things under way when they borrowed Russ Palm's tractor and began putting grass on the football field.

Davis comments that at first there was an average of 40 or 50 people who attended the meetings at Circleville, but as high as a 100 would show up at some. Also, there were only men at first. Just recently have women started coming to Booster Club.

The Booster Club is actually a group of people who are interested in promoting and boosting the athletic program.

Naturally, most are parents, relatives, friends or teachers of athletes or cheerleaders. One of the main objectives of these people is to raise money to supplement the athletic department.

The budget requests for the year 1970 were $2,200 (including meals) for football, $700.00 (including meals) for basketball, $135.00 for track, $65.00 for golf and baseball, and $300.00 for trophies and miscellaneous usage. So the total came to about $3,400.00.

The Booster Club does a number of things to raise this money. Each year members sell individual and business memberships. They also sell ads to the area merchants for the football and basketball programs and they go one half with the Stogie Club on the sale of the programs during the games, some of their other projects include raffles, and game ball contests.

Meetings are held at the High School cafeteria every Wednesday at 8 p.m. During the football season films of the previous week's game are shown by Coach Denny Williams.

Officers for this year are: president, Ed Webb, first vice president, Bill Mehalick, second vice president, Dick Williams, and acting as secretary-treasurer is Jane Truex.

Everyone who is a Tiger sports fan and would like to be a Tiger Booster is invited.

Musical Group, The Second Session, Entertains At CHS

THE SECOND SESSION

By KAREN LITTEN

"I would like to say that Second Session believes in America. Today that is probably not an 'In' thing to say, but I'm proud to say that I was born, raised and live in America. . . . One of the major problems today is drugs. I would like to add that The Second Session doesn't do drugs, or believe in drugs. . . . stated Keith Sargent, lead singer of 'The Second Session,' at an assembly last Thursday in the high school gym.

The Second Session is a musical group sponsored by Paul Caldwell. It consists of nine members ranging in ages from 18 to 24. The members were chosen from various parts of the U.S. From Detroit, Mich. is Keith Sargent, lead singer, and his kid sister, Connie Sargent. Also from Detroit is Stan Morris, who writes music and temporarily plays trombone for the group until a replacement can be found. He is an arranger with a record company. From California is Nancy Christian, who plays piano and sings. Brenda Taylor, another singer, is from Texas. Guitar player, Dennis Savage, is from Alabama. The rest of the group consists of drummer Mike Stewart of Indiana, Phil Humphrey from Memphis, Tenn., playing saxophone and from North Carolina is Gary Sikes playing bass guitar. The group has been together for only six weeks.

This very versatile group did songs by such artists as The Carpenters, Three Dog Night, Fifth Dimension and many more.

During the concert several members performed a skit concerning a doctor's office. One pathetic patient kept catching the head-shaking, leg-kicking, arm twitching diseases of the other patients.

Two members of the audience, Conchita Lowe and Jodi Moats, were brought up to the group and were instructed on how to stop and start the band by Keith Sargent. This was quite amusing to the audience and embarrassing for the girls.

Toward the end of the concert the Second Session used several songs to sum up their feelings of America. Among these were songs such as "Only in America," "God Bless America," "This Land Is Your Land," and "Glory, Glory Hallelujah." The final song was the gospel song, "Oh Happy Day," sung by Stan Morris.

This assembly was paid for by the Student Council and presented to the student body without charge.

Muskingum Hosts Tiger Band On Halloween

By DAN DeLONG

Muskingum College played, along with the Halloween spirit and said "trick-or-treat" to the Circleville High School Marching Band last weekend. The treat was a trip to their school to play at the halftime of the Muskingum-Denison football game, but the trick was to perform their show.

This weekend of the mystic began for the band Friday night at the game with Washington Court House. The band performed before a very spontaneous crowd, and the pregame with its patriotic theme, was accepted with rousing applause.

Halftime was a bewitching show befitting the Halloween weekend with low lights and temptress majorettes doing a routine with devil-like pitch forks.

On Saturday, the band, who was invited by the college, traveled to New Concord, Ohio, to perform for the Muskies at their football game. Muskingum, who is having one of its worst seasons in many years, had a small crowd at this game which was very disappointing to the band.

The pre-game show started with the fanfare from 2001 Odyssey, followed by several other arrangements which marched them to the position from which the "Star Spangled Banner" was played by solo trumpeter Marc Lackey. After playing the Muskingum Alma Mater, the band marched off the field and supported the team from the grandstands.

The crowd was inspired when "Doe" Lackey played "Charge." The band used many cheers from Circleville since the colors of both school were the same.

The band's halftime show was cut short due to the fact that a new press box was being dedicated. This ran over its allotted time and cut into the band's time. The part of the show that they had time to do included the concert march "Killian," "Little Boat," "Jesus Christ Superstar," "California Dreamin'" and "Soul Town." The crowd was so inspired by his great halftime show that their applause continued long after the band had left the field.

Comments from the Muskingum fans were all flattering. One viewer of the performance said it was the best halftime show of the year.

So this Halloween, the band gathered the tricks as the audiences gathered in the treats.

EDDY RICHTER

Eddy Enjoys Photography, Wrestling

By LISA WILLIAMS

"I think the school here is a lot stricter and some of the teaching methods aren't as modern as where I came from, but the students are friendlier than in bigger cities. It's just a small town atmosphere, and the system isn't so updated." This is the comment made by Eddy Richter, a new sophomore, when asked what he thought of CHS.

Eddy is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald W. Richter and he resides at 4 Cambridge Place with his parents and sister Susie.

Eddy moved here from Middletown, Ohio, where he attended Middletown Freshman High and was active in football, wrestling and track.

One of his special interests is photography. At Middletown he took a class to further his knowledge on this subject.

Here, Eddy is active in Stooze Club and football and he plans to wrestle this year.

After graduation, Eddy is planning to go to Australia and work on a foreign construction job.

Two Males Head Annual

By LYN JACOBS

Do you realize how long it has been since two males have headed up the annual staff? Andy Hoffman, editor, and Dan DeLong, business manager, are the first male team to hold these positions since 1950.

Chosen to be assistant editor last year by the editor and adviser, Andy moved into the position of editor of the 1972 Circle last spring. Dan became business manager in much the same way.

As editor, Andy plays a big part in planning the yearbook. Drawing up the introductory section, division pages and other pages, supervising picture-taking and training inexperienced staff members are a few of his responsibilities.

Along with holding this responsible position on the Circle staff, Andy is president of Science Club and a member of Key Club, band, stage band, EMS and 4-H junior leaders. This past summer he attended Boys' State and he is presently trying out for the "In the Know" team.

After graduation this spring, Andy plans to attend either Miami University or the University of Kentucky and study pre-law.

Starting in the summer with organizing the entire ad campaign, Dan DeLong is also kept busy all year collecting money from annual sales and handling all other annual staff money, putting it in the bank and keeping the records.

Besides being business manager, Dan takes many pictures for the annual and all the pictures for the Red and Black page. Many of these pictures he develops himself, adding to his time-consuming projects. He is also treasurer for student council.

Viet Deadline Cut From Bill By Conferees

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate-House conferees agreed Thursday to remove the six-month deadline voted by the Senate from a compromise measure calling for total U.S. withdrawal from Indochina.

The compromise language, declaring total withdrawal to be U.S. policy provided American prisoners and missing troops are freed, was included in a $21.3-billion military weapons and research authorization bill.

It marks the second time that the conferees, senior members of the Senate and House Armed Services committees, have voted to delete a withdrawal deadline voted by the Senate. On the draft extension bill earlier this year, they eliminated a nine-month withdrawal provision.

Dear Abby: Should Friend's Face Lift Be Noticed?

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: What does a person do when she comes face to face for the first time with a friend (or acquaintance) who has had cosmetic surgery—like a nose job or a face-lift?

I recently ran into a woman who had just had a face-lift, and with absolute sincerity, I said, "Your recent surgery has improved your appearance 100 per cent!"

She gave me an icy stare and walked away without even saying thank you. I felt like 2 cents.

Another time, I pretended I didn't notice that a friend's daughter had recently had a nose job. It was obvious, but I said nothing.

Finally, she said, "Don't you notice anything different about me?" I felt foolish. Of course, I'd noticed, but after having learned my lesson with the face-lift lady, I didn't want to mention it.

So please tell me, Dear Abby, what is a person supposed to do?

IN A QUANDARY
DEAR IN: Since vanity prompts most people to have cosmetic surgery, to ignore it is unkind. But to rave too enthusiastically over the "improvement" may give the impression that her (or his) former appearance was dreadful, which is worse.

If the change is conspicuously for the best, say, "My, you look great!" They'll get the message without having to decode it.

DEAR ABBY: I am 16 years old, and am in love with an 18-year-old boy. We've been going steady for seven months and were planning on getting married in about a year from now.

We have gone all the way to express our love several times. My mother found out about it and carried on something awful, and now she is making us get married as soon as my boy friend gets his next paycheck.

Abby, we don't have any furniture, and we don't even have a place to live. My mother won't let me see my boy friend, and says I am to stay strictly in the house until I am married. I love my mother and don't want to hurt her, but she is hurting me more by making me get married with nothing except the love I have for my boy friend.

Do you think she is right in forcing us to marry right now with nothing?

LOUISIANA GIRL
DEAR GIRL: To force two ill-prepared young people into marriage in order to punish is, I think, very shortsighted. Worse yet, your 18-year-old boy friend is bound to feel trapped and resentful, and an unwilling bridegroom makes a very poor husband.

DEAR ABBY: I have had the same hairdresser for years. She does nice work and I had always looked forward to my weekly appointment.

Unfortunately, someone gave her a small portable television for a gift. She then started bringing it to work so she could watch a program on her lunch time. Fine. Soon she started to watch the program which followed it. Then the next. And the next. Until now she's got it on all afternoon.

I am not only speaking for myself because other customers have told me that since she's had the TV set in her booth her work is slipping. Also, she is very unpleasant and cranky. If someone speaks to her, she goes, "Shhhhh, I want to hear this."

She is a faithful reader of your column. How can I let her know I miss her formerly friendly chit chat?

UNHAPPY
DEAR UNHAPPY: After this hits print, you may not have to. (P.S. She must own her own shop. I can't imagine the boss putting up with this.)

Many Drink Scotch

LONDON (AP) — Scotch whisky exports are expected to rise by between 4.4 and 5.6 per cent a year to reach perhaps as much as $5.9 million gallons a year by 1976, says an analysis prepared by Economic Associates Ltd.

It said 72.5 million gallons were drunk around the world in 1970. That's equal to 630 million standard bottles.

Ohio Supreme Court Disbars Cleveland

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Declaring that a lawyer who solicits and accepts a bribe should be removed from his position of trust, the Ohio Supreme Court Wednesday permanently disbarred Michael Fatica of Cleveland.

Fatica was accused of accepting a $5,000 bribe while serving on the Cleveland City Council in 1964 in exchange for his favorable vote on a liquor license transfer request.

Fatica denied the charge, saying the $5,000 was a fee for legal services.

But the Supreme Court found that Fatica had solicited a bribe in the case and upheld the disbarment recommendation of its Board of Commissioners on Grievances.

"The solicitation and acceptance of a bribe by an attorney-at-law," the high court said, "is by its very nature so serious to warrant if not compel — his permanent removal from his position of trust as an attorney."

In another case, the Supreme Court ruled the Athens County Municipal Court erred in not granting a jury trial to Richard White of Albany on a drunk driving charge.

It reversed White's conviction and referred the case back to the court, saying White's request for a jury trial, filed on Jan. 5, 1970, was made within legally acceptable time.

Jury trial was not complied with because it was not filed within three days of the trial date as Ohio law requires. White said he could not comply with the Jan. 3 deadline because the courthouse was closed that day for a long New Year weekend.

Wholesale Price Decline Noted

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Nixon's price freeze dropped wholesale prices an average of 0.1 per cent in October for the second monthly decline in a row, the government said Thursday.

Wholesale prices for consumer finished goods went against the trend, rising 0.2 per cent, but this was attributed largely to a 2.1 per cent increase in food items, most of which are not subject to the freeze. Excluding foods, consumer goods were down 0.3 per cent.

Industrial commodities were unchanged.

GOP Hangs Demo Defeats At Door Of Gov. Gilligan

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The poor showing of Democrats in municipal elections around the state was attributed by Republicans Wednesday to voter dissatisfaction with Gov. John Gilligan.

But Democratic leaders blamed the results on young voters, women and party splits. "I think the Gilligan image hurt Democrats around the state," said Republican state Chairman John Andrews.

State Rep. Robert Levitt, R-91 Canton, said political analysts "might justifiably surmise that Gilligan's popularity with the voters has slipped so low that his support of fellow Democrat candidates had a negative effect."

Republicans won key races for mayor at Cleveland and Columbus Tuesday, while holding on to mayoral offices in Akron, Canton and Youngstown. The only bright spot for Democrats was a victory at Toledo.

John E. Jones, executive director of the state Democratic Party, said he did not believe the governor's austerity moves, such as the closing of state parks, had "any great influence as far as the mayor elections are concerned."

Jones noted that Sen. Howard Cook, who strongly opposed the austerity measures, lost to a Democrat in Toledo's mayoral race.

"There is a revolution in our Democratic Party," Jones said. "Young people are demanding a voice, and so are the women, and they are showing their strength now, and we have to bring them into the mainstream of our party."

He said the young voter was a major contributing factor to the defeat of Democratic incumbent Columbus Mayor M.E. Sensenbrenner by Republican Tom Moody, noting more than 4,000 newly-registered young people registered to vote in Franklin County.

In Cleveland, where Republican Ralph Perk was a surprising winner, it was a case of "two Democrats running against each other," said Jones.

Outgoing Cleveland Mayor Carl Stokes originally backed Democrat James Carney in the primary, but switched his support to Arnold Pinkney, an independent, in the general election.

Andrews, in attributing Democratic losses to Gilligan's image, said "local thinking is frequently affected by impressions of what's going on at other levels.

"The overall impression of efficiency and capability of the administration is very poor," he said.

Americans Become Targets Of Terrorism In Brazil

SAO PAULO, Brazil (AP) — Brazilian forces were on the alert for more anti-U.S. terrorism on the anniversary Thursday of the police killing of a rebel leader.

Terrorists on Wednesday burned the automobiles of two U.S. businessmen and a U.S. consul and exploded a small bomb in a restaurant above the U.S. Consulate. Each car was burned in the driveway of the owner's home and the letters "ALN" were scrawled in paint nearby.

The initials stand for Alliance Libertador Nacional—National Liberation Alliance—whose leader Carlos Marighela was killed in a police ambush on Nov. 4, 1969.

The ALN is the most active of the antigovernment terrorist groups. It recently burned a number of cars belonging to a progovernment newspaper chain and staged several lucrative holdups.

U.S. Deputy Consul-General Francis X. Lambert was the first victim Wednesday. The barking of his dog woke him at 5:30 a.m., his car's horn began to blow, and the 54-year-old diplomat ran outside to see his 1970 Chevrolet Impala in flames.

Later in the morning cars belonging to James W. Ramming of Swift & Co. and Schuyler C.F. Pulford of Sears, Roebuck were set afire.

The bomb went off in the restaurant about 8 p.m., but no one was hurt and there was no damage to the U.S. Consulate.

The NLA has assumed much of the terrorist activity previously carried out by the Popular Revolutionary Vanguard or VPR, an antigovernment group headed by Carlos Lamarca, who was killed by security forces last September.

The VPR was blamed for the kidnapping last December of Swiss Ambassador Giovanni Enrico Bucher and the earlier abductions of West German Ambassador Ehrenfried von Holleben, Japanese Consul-General Nobuo Okuchi and U.S. Ambassador C. Burke Elbrick. All were released unharmed after the government flew political prisoners out of the country.

Kurfess Prime Target Of Income Tax Foes

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Republicans in the House who have asked House Speaker Charles Kurfess to either come out against a personal income tax or resign contend they had reason to make the ultimatum public.

House Banking

Committee was dramatic. It switched from Wednesday's peaceable attitude of general support for Nixon's proposals to extend his control powers to April 30, 1973, to a rapid-fire series of close, almost party-line votes which, if translated into law, would pin a made-in-Congress label on much of the Phase 2 program.

In between had come a signal that labor needed help. A story leaked into print that the Pay Board's five public and five industry members had recommended, in separately drafted plans, that Phase 2 pay increases be held to 5 per cent, that retroactivity be denied, and that the deferred pay increases be pared down to conform to the general wage guideline. The public members proposed, further, that the freeze be extended two months beyond its scheduled Nov. 13 expiration date.

The Banking Committee moved into action. In addition to proposals requiring deferred pay contracts be honored and frozen pay increases paid retroactively, the committee's amendments would:

—Authorize individual consumers to sue for up to $1,000 damages if they are willfully overcharged.

—Impose mandatory controls on interest rates while price and wage controls are in effect. Nixon has requested standby power to control interest and dividends, but the White House has expressly stated it has no plan to use the authority.

—Exempt from wage controls the working poor—those who have jobs but with earnings below the federally established subsistence levels.

—Eliminate from the Nixon legislation a provision giving congressional ratification to actions already taken by the control agencies.

—Authorize a study of excess profits; this would imply congressional interest in the possible control of business profits by levying an excess-profits tax like that of World War II. Labor has asked for such a tax.

The Senate Finance Committee voted, meantime, to give Nixon emergency authority to impose new curbs on imports including a 15-per-cent surcharge. This would not be in addition to the present temporary 10-per-cent surcharge; the maximum would be 15 per cent.

The provision was an amendment to the $15.5-billion tax-cut bill. The standby authority also would include presidential power to impose selective import quotas, if the White House finds that an emergency exists in the country's balance-of-payments position.

Chairman Russell B. Long, D-La., who drafted the amendment, said it should strengthen Nixon's hand in negotiations with foreign countries for removal of trade barriers, after the 10-per-cent surcharge has been lifted.

Former Miss America Sues Pill Maker

PITTSBURGH, Pa. (AP) — A former Miss Ohio who went on to become the 1963 Miss America has filed a federal court suit against a birth control pill manufacturer, claiming the pills caused her to suffer a stroke last year.

Jacqueline Mayer Townsend seeks in excess of $10,000 damages from Johnson and Johnson Co. and its subsidiary, Ortho Pharmaceutical Corp., according to her attorney, Leonard Paletta.

Mrs. Townsend resides in nearby Washington, Pa., with her husband and two children. She says in her complaint she began taking Ortho-Novum birth control pill on Oct. 26, 1969, and suffered a stroke the following Nov. 27, allegedly as a result of taking the pill.

The stroke left the former Miss America from Sandusky, Ohio, paralyzed on her right side. She has recovered, but suffered facial damage and still has difficulty speaking, Paletta said.

The lawyer said the 29-year-old Mrs. Townsend is suing the companies for failure to warn users of the danger of taking the drug. Officials of Johnson and Johnson, in New Brunswick, N. J., said they would have no comment on the complaint until they had time to study it.

tax and if he would, if the majority decided, oppose it on the floor.

"He squirmed on both accounts," said Rep. John Bechtold, a Cincinnati member of the group of some 20 GOP dissidents. "He wants that tax so bad he can taste it."

Bechtold and the other dissidents, in a letter to GOP State Chairman John Andrews, said those who could not fight the tax should give up their leadership posts and let the "main stream of Republican philosophy" take its course.

"The House leadership position," they said, "is apparently in conflict with the position of Andrews was under fire earlier in the year for not taking a stand on the issue. When he came out in opposition, the dissidents focused their attack on Kurfess.

The long session of the legislature hasn't bothered Sen. Robert Secrest, a Cambridge Democrat, other than the fact he feels he hasn't done anything.

When other legislators were worrying Thursday about whether voting on a tax bill might be delayed to Saturday or Sunday, the former U.S. Congressman wasn't concerned.

Gov. John Gilligan's batting average in Tuesday's election wasn't good and the legislators know it. Only one of the Democratic candidates he endorsed won.

When a United Auto Workers official pressed Sen. Douglas Applegate, the Steubenville Democrat, to vote for an income tax bill he may have gone too far.

"If you don't," the union official said, "the governor will come down there and campaign against you in the next election. Applegate beamed.

"Is that a promise?" he asked.

The value of statistics in politics is immeasurable.

They can be used, and most often are, to prove any argument, observed one veteran Statehouse watcher.

"There is something about a set of figures that is intimidating," he noted.

A case in point — a recent press release from Ohio Budget Director Jay O. Tepper in support of an income tax plan for the state.

In that release Tepper pointed to a statewide vote in the State of Maine that upheld a 1 to 6 per cent personal income tax.

The vote, Tepper said, was 3-to-1 in favor of retaining the tax.

Tepper said he felt the Maine vote was "particularly interesting since this was the first time in history voters of a state had the opportunity to ballot on a graduated state income tax."

He said he hoped taxpayers of Ohio would "take a long look at reasons why Maine voters approved such a tax overwhelmingly."

The budget director also pointed out that residents of Maine are paying higher taxes than residents of Ohio, despite the fact that they earn less on the average. Local and state taxes in Maine average about 7.9 per cent of personal income. The figure is 6.1 per cent in Ohio.

"Apparently the income tax is not as politically unsaleable as many of Ohio's members of the General Assembly seem to feel," he said.

The one overlooked fact quickly pointed out by an income tax opponent: Maine has been losing population steadily since the early 1960s, with latest census figures setting the state's population at just under 900,000.

CAPITAL NOTES
Quote of the Week: Rep. John Bechtold, R-65 Cincinnati, commenting on the breakdown of the electronic voting machines in Cincinnati that failed for the third time in as many elections to count votes: "Those machines are all right. The only time we have trouble with them is during elections."

Election results from Tuesday's balloting are expected some time today. Each of the voting machines had to be re-programmed before the count could begin.

New Pentagon Rights Chief Is Selected

WASHINGTON (AP) — After a 10-week search, Pentagon officials reportedly have persuaded a black New York industrial executive to take over the prickly job of trying to solve persistent racial problems in the armed forces.

Sources said Donald Miller, 39-year-old industrial relations vice president of Seatrain Shipbuilding Corp., is the leading prospect for the $36,000-a-year job a number of others have shunned.

Reached by telephone, Miller indicated he expects formal action after the Pentagon completes routine political clearance procedures.

The post of deputy assistant secretary of defense for civil rights has been empty since Aug. 25 when Frank Render, a black civic leader from Syracuse, N.Y., resigned under pressure. A Pentagon spokesman said at the time that Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird felt there had not been enough action to end racial discrimination in the service.

Officials deny that Render faced an impossible task because he lacked the "clout" to force changes on the services. These officials said Render's replacement will have Laird's full backing, and it will be up to him to make use of that support.

Miller, a retired Army major, is credited with developing a minority-training program at Seatrain Shipbuilding.

Man, Science Head For Collision

STAMFORD, Conn. (AP) — Man and science are on a collision course—and it is man who will have to change, says the winner of the Nobel Prize for physics, Dr. Dennis Gabor.

"I distrust the nature of man for very good reason," Gabor said in an interview.

"He was made to fight his way out of the forests, but it's doubtful he was made to live in a highly civilized society."

Man's impulses to fight and grow, Gabor says, lead to tremendous problems in an age of science—problems of overpopulation, pollution, destructiveness, and restless boredom if there is too much leisure time.

The way out, he says, is not to eliminate science—but to change man's motivations. Scientists and educators can work together to turn men toward excellence as a goal instead of more material goods; toward a better quality of life instead of destruction, he added.

Gabor, a 71-year-old native of Hungary who left Europe while Hitler's power was growing, won the 1927 Nobel Prize for inventing holography—a laser beam system for reproducing three-dimensional images without lenses.

Rain Curbs Irish Terror

BELFAST, Northern Ireland (AP) — Drenching rain Thursday night brought Northern Ireland its quietest night in two years.

The streets of Belfast were deserted except for small army foot patrols and two snipers who fired a couple of shots at the soldiers in a Roman Catholic district, then disappeared. The snipers missed, and the soldiers didn't fire back.

In Italy, police were posted outside all British diplomatic and commercial offices in Rome and Milan after a bomb exploded at the British Embassy to the Vatican Thursday night. The explosion shattered the windows of the embassy but caused little other damage. A passerby was treated at a hospital for a broken arm and head cuts.

The initials of the Irish Republican Army, which is trying to drive the British out of Northern Ireland, were painted near the window where the bomb had been placed. But a police spokesman said it was premature to consider the IRA responsible.

Football fans come in all sizes, shapes and varying degrees of loyalty.

There are the true faithfuls who win or lose are still in the stands rooting their boys on at the final gun. Circleville has more than its share of this type attested to by the fact that Tigers rooters often outnumber the opposition even when the Red and Black is on the road.

Some are the type fans who are staunch supporters when their team is ahead but suddenly remember, when the score is going against them, that they left the coffee pot on the stove and have to go home before the game is over.

Then there is the fan who comes to the game and proceeds to tell everyone within earshot how to run the team.

This guy's claim to fame goes back to the day he played left needle on the sewing team. He displays his great coaching ability by announcing, always after a play has proved to be a disaster, that he certainly wouldn't have called that play. Fortunately, these individuals are in the minority.

We've seen them all and can honestly say Circleville has good solid fans who support their team.

There has been a lot of discussion about who deserves the title of Circleville's number one fan and we would like to get a plug in for the one we feel rates the nod.

This fan has to be the greatest our humble opinion who, disregarding family loyalty, lives and dies with the beloved Tigers in all sports.

We've seen this fan with tears running down the cheeks when a Tiger is injured and suffering real pain when the Red and Black is losing.

We remember many things but the thing we'll never forget is one of the greatest displays of loyalty we've ever witnessed.

The rain was coming down in buckets, the Tigers were being crushed 40-8, the scoreboard clock lights showed 0:12 left in the contest.

Suddenly the damp night air was shattered by the immortal cry "Go Tigers". We turned from our soggy sideline perch and looked into an almost deserted stands.

There she was — standing on a seat — fist raised into air — giving her Tigers all the help possible.

You've probably guessed it by now — Our pick is Floryne Williams. In our book — she's the greatest.

Our little gem of information — The old Brooklyn Dodgers were once called the Brooklyn Bridegrooms because married players outnumbered the single ones.

Our "fearless" forecast — Circleville will take the Falcons . . . Teays Valley could shock the Blue Lions . . . Logan Elm to knock the tracks off the Sherman Tanks . . . Mustangs will leave hoofprints on the Warriors . . . Spartans just might upset the Buckeyes . . . Browns to tap the Steelers . . . Falcons will fly over the crippled Bengals.

Until next time, have a nice day — be a good sport.

Warriors Edge Out Seattle In Hard-Fought Tilt, 98-96

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Cazie Russell keeps scorching the net for the Golden State Warriors in the National Basketball Association.

The former Michigan All-American sank a 10-foot jumper with five seconds to play that gave the Warriors a 98-96 victory over Seattle Thursday night for their fifth in a row and first place in the Pacific Division.

Cazie took an inbound pass and cut to the corner to get off his winning shot which capped a six-point Seattle lead. Russell finished with 19 points, seven of them coming in the closing minutes to follow up his pro career high of 43 against Baltimore Tuesday. Jeff Mullins was high for the Warriors with 22 while Spencer Haywood of Seattle was high for the game with 31.

A three-point play by rookie Sidney Wicks with 15 seconds left gave Portland a 112-110 victory over Houston in the other NBA game scheduled.

Pittsburgh beat Utah 135-129 and Memphis tripped Indiana 105-94 in the two American Basketball Association games listed.

Wicks, an All-American at UCLA last season, was fouled while making a basket from the corner and sank the free throw. That gave Portland a five-point lead at 111-106 and offset two baskets by Elvin Hayes of the Rockets in the closing seconds.

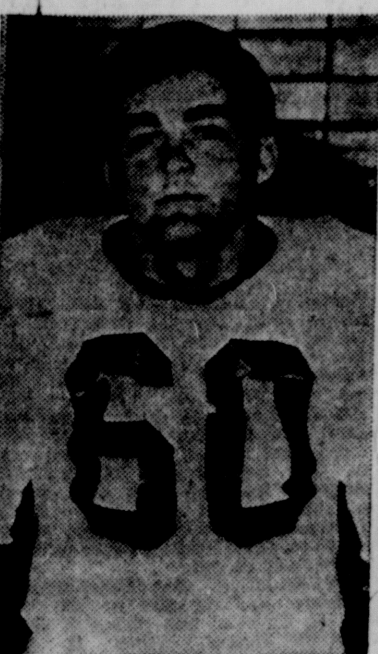

Wicks finished with 31 points, 20 of them in the second half. Hayes led Houston with 28. John Brisker scored 37 points against Utah as Pittsburgh made a winning debut for new coach Mark Binstein. Jack McMahon was removed as coach of the Condors earlier in the day and replaced by Binstein who also is general manager of the club. Zelmo Beaty was high for the losing Stars with 35.

Forecaster Predicts Viking Win

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — It's seven weeks down and seven to go in the National Football League, and while nothing is settled as yet, the San Francisco-Minnesota game Sunday will have a direct bearing on the title hopes of five teams. The teams are the 49ers and Los Angeles Rams, running 1-2 National Conference, and the Vikings, Chicago and Detroit, running 1-2 in the NFC's Central Division.

And, it says here, the winner will be the vengeful Vikings, who haven't forgotten that it was the 49ers who eliminated them last year in the NFC playoffs en route to the Super Bowl.

Here's the way one man sees the whole Sunday and Monday program:

Minnesota 17, San Francisco 14—Neither team allows many points, but the Vikings hit harder, and Norm Snead looks like the starting quarterback. Snead gives Minnesota more of a passing threat than Gary Cuozzo.

Pittsburgh 27, Cleveland 21—The Browns appear to be on the downside and the Steelers, behind Terry Bradshaw, on the up swing. Besides, the Steelers are 3-0 at home on their Tartan Turf field and that may be a significant factor.

St. Louis 24, Dallas 14—Despite the selection of Roger Staubach as the Dallas Cowboys' quarterback, the situation on the Dallas club may still be unsettling. Besides, remember last year's 38-0 debacle at St. Louis.

Washington 38, Philadelphia 21—The Redskins have the graybeards; the Eagles have no beards, or offense.

Chicago 27, Green Bay 17—John Brockington, Packers' rookie runners, meets Dick Butkus. Butkus wins, and so do Bears.

Kansas City 42, New York Jets 10—The Jets have no defenders left to stop Chiefs' receiver Otis Taylor.

Oakland 31, New Orleans 14—And the Raiders may not even have to call for George Blanda in this one.

Miami 38, Buffalo 14—The Bills are changing passers, from Dennis Shaw to Jim Harris, but they won't be able to short change Larry Csonka and Jim Kiick.

Baltimore 24, Los Angeles 21—The Colts' defense keeps doing the job and will shut off the Rams' running game in Monday night's T.V.er.

Detroit 27, Denver 24—With reservations, is Chuck Hughes' death still hanging over the Lions?

Atlanta 28, Cincinnati 13—Bengals' quarterback Virgil Carter may return, but Falcons' defensive end Claude Humphrey will get him.

San Diego 34, New York Giants 24—Chargers' mashing combination of John Hadl to Gary Garrison riddles Giants' pass defense.

Houston 21, New England 20—Not much to choose here. Give the Oilers the edge after winning their first last week.

Pittsburgh Condors Shift Management

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The Pittsburgh Condors, a fragile franchise in the American Basketball Association, have made yet another change.

In five years, Pittsburgh's entry into the ABA has had three names, two homes, two owners and three general managers.

Now they have another new coach—their sixth. Mark Binstein, also the general manager, replaced Jack McMahon as coach, the club announced Thursday.

Billy Tohill Heads Texas Christian 11

FORTWORTH, Tex. (AP)—Billy Tohill, named head football coach Thursday at Texas Christian University, is a lot like Jim Pittman, the man he succeeded—a dedicated athlete almost from the cradle.

Both came from small Mississippi towns—Pittman from Boyle and Billy from Bateville. Both played at Mississippi State.

"I started out playing pee-wee football," Tohill said, "then went up through high school. There weren't many kids in our high school, so you played all sports."

LSU, Alabama To Collide In Bitter Contest Saturday

By KEN RAPPOPORT
Associated Press Sports Writer
The citizens of Baton Rouge, La., are preparing a welcome for Alabama's football team.

Nothing special, mind you—just the same, old mind-numbing horror that usually accompanies the bitter clash of arch-rivals Louisiana State and Alabama.

The reception committee will turn Tiger Stadium into a vocal circus of horrors, as a crowd of more than 67,000 snarls at the visitors in the Saturday night affair.

Along with the psychological impact of an unfriendly, raucous crowd, there'll also be the sight of Mike III to greet Alabama. He's the LSU mascot—a full-throated tiger kept in a cage on the sidelines.

Alabama leads the series, 20-10, with four ties.

The match between Alabama, the nation's fourth-ranked team, and No. 18 LSU will be nationally televised, (9:30 p.m., EST, on ABC). Four other games of strong tradition will be televised regionally in the afternoon—No. 7 Georgia at Florida; Minnesota at Northwestern; Boston College at Syracuse and No. 20 Washington at California.

Like Baton Rouge, a trip to Jacksonville, Fla., could be a lost weekend for Georgia. The series has been played in the north Florida city since 1934—and each year the Bulldogs get that unfriendly feeling.

Since 1934, 19 games have been decided by eight points or less. Florida, led by quarterback John Reeves and pass-catching whiz Carlos Alvarez, hopes to cut into Georgia's 28-18-2 series advantage.

Washington's Sonny Sixkiller pits his powerful arm against California, powered by a rash of good running backs, Craig Curry, a dangerous passer and runner, leads Minnesota at Northwestern and Syracuse and Boston match a pair of strong defenses.

In other big games Saturday, it's Iowa State visiting top-ranked Nebraska; No. 2 Oklahoma at Missouri; Iowa at third-ranked Michigan; No. 5 Auburn hosting Mississippi State; sixth-ranked Penn State entertaining Maryland; No. 8 Notre Dame at Pittsburgh;

Miracle Man George Blanda Unimpressed With Record

OAKLAND (AP) — After setting an all-time professional football scoring record, what do you do on your day off?

What craggy-faced George Blanda did was loll around his motel apartment, play some cribbage with wife Betty and daughter Leslie, sock a few balls on a golf driving range, and watch the Monday night football game on television.

The rest of the week was the usual in-season routine, practice—but not too strenuously—for Sunday's Oakland Raider game at New Orleans.

At age 44, with 22 years in pro ball, Blanda knows how to keep himself in shape and still manages to get in a round of golf after practice.

They stopped the game last Sunday and presented George with the football which he had just kicked for a field goal that gave the Raiders a 20-20 tie with the Kansas City Chiefs and preserved their tie with the Chiefs for the lead in the American Football Conference Western Division.

It ran his career total to 1,609 points, one better than Lou Groza's—although The National Football League already had Blanda as the record holder because the NFL didn't count the points Groza scored in the old All-America Conference.

George was proud, but not

"When you've played 22 years, you should be setting records," he remarked. "Anyway, it will be broken some day."

From the fans' point of view, Oakland Coach John Madden could have picked a better time to allow Blanda to kick the ball that is destined for the pro football Hall of Fame in Canton, Ohio.

On fourth down and inches from the goal, the fans were yelling, "Go, go, go!" for a winning touchdown. They booed and groaned when Madden called for the tying kick instead.

Madden said it never even occurred to him to try for six, even though Blanda had gone in and rallied the Raiders from a 10-point deficit with his 232nd career touchdown pass.

The coach said he had sent the old pro in "because I felt we needed new life."

But now it's another week, and Blanda will be back on the bench, waiting to be called on to extend his record or, perhaps, come to the rescue again.

Cleveland Browns Face Injury Trouble

CLEVELAND (AP) — Three starters for the Cleveland Browns remain questionable performers for Sunday's clash with the Steelers in Pittsburgh.

Lee Trevino 7 Below Par In Golf Clash

MEICO CITY (AP)—"I'm just driving it so straight I can't help but score good. I get on some of them narrow holes and just automatically go to the old driver and hit it right down the middle."

Lee Trevino, admittedly "a little weary," was holding forth after shooting a brilliant, seven-under-par 65 Thursday for a three-stroke lead in the first round of the Mexican National Open Golf Tournament.

Trevino, a heavy favorite to add this national title to his collection of British, American and Canadian Open crowns, didn't miss a fairway and didn't miss a green in his stunning effort over the 7,174-yard Club de Golf course, called by many pros one of the world's best.

"I said when I came in here I'd like to shoot 10 or 14 under for the tournament," the 31-year-old Trevino grinned.

"Well, I'm on my way. He put together his remarkable effort despite a bogey on the first hole. He three-putted when a cameraman jumped in his line as he was making his second shot.

"That got me hot," he said, "but it really got me going. I told myself, 'You've got 71 more holes to play and you might shoot 'em in nothing. So I just calmed down.'"

Three strokes back and tied for second in the American-dominated event were Rocky Thompson and veteran Billy Maxwell, along with Mexico's Juan Neri and Ernesto Perez Acosta and Angel Gallardo of Spain.

R.H. Sikes had a 69 with tour regulars Bob Rosburgh and Larry Ziegler and club pro Jim Barker of San Antonio, Tex., at 70.

"I thought I had a pretty good score," Thompson said. "But that Trevino is too much."

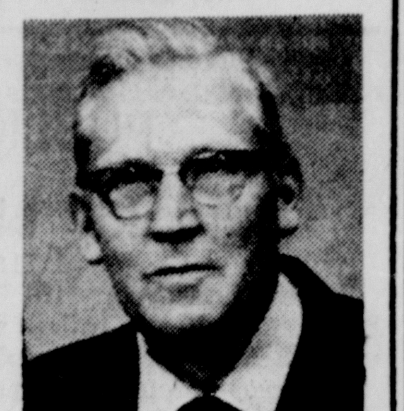

Cincinnati Swords Top Voyageurs, 4-3

CINCINNATI (AP) — The Cincinnati Swords roared onto the ice in a fierce body-checking second period and slammed in three goals to defeat the Nova Scotia Voyageurs 4-3 in an American Hockey League game Thursday night.

Nova Scotia's Bob Murdoch scored on a power play late in the first period when Cincinnati's Jim Nichols was in the penalty box for hooking. Butch Deadmarsh netted the tying goal just before the end of the period.

Boston Bruins Rip St. Louis Blues, 6-1

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The Boston Bruins used something old and something new to beat the Blues.

John Bucyk, who's been around a while, and Reggie Leach, who is just getting started, each drilled in two goals Thursday night to help Boston whip St. Louis 6-1 in the National Hockey League.

Bucyk, a 36-year-old wing who scored 51 goals last season, connected for his fifth and sixth of the campaign and just missed a hat trick when his shot hit the post and bounced out in the third period.

Leach, a No. 1 draft choice in his second pro season at the age of 21, scored his first two goals this year.

The Buffalo Sabre rallied from a four-goal deficit to tie the Detroit Red Wings 4-4 in the only other NHL game.

Eric Allen Breaks Little-Known Record

EAST LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Statisticians have found that Michigan State back Eric Allen broke one NCAA record that was entirely overlooked during the Spartan 43-10 football victory last week over Purdue.

Allen already is credited with an NCAA single-game rushing record of 350 yards, topping the former 347 yards by Michigan's Ron Johnson against Wisconsin in 1968.

Allen also is credited with setting a new all-purpose NCAA running total. This consists of yardage gained from rushing, pass receiving and all run-backs.

Players on the Air Force football team came from 17 states and Washington, D.C.

Judge Nixes Ohio Plea

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla. (AP) — A federal judge indicated Wednesday he would reject the state of Ohio's claim that a reorganization plan for Four Seasons Nursing Centers of America was unfair because it would force the state to accept stock in the firm.

Attorneys for Ohio had objected to the plan, saying that if Ohio is issued stock for its claim, the state would have to sell it immediately at "forced sale" prices under provisions of the Ohio constitution.

Ohio is seeking to reclaim $4 million it lent to the corporation.

Chief U.S. District Court Judge Luther Bohannon, who opened a hearing on the reorganization plan Wednesday, said Ohio was raising a "bugaboo" objection. He said since the state had engaged in commerce, it had to take its position alongside other claimants.

"It's unfortunate you got into this mess," he told two Ohio attorneys, "but a lot of other people are in it, too."

British Missionaries Seek Role

By BRIAN JEFFRIES
—Associated Press Writer
LONDON (AP) — British missionaries are in a quandary. Like Britain, they have lost an empire and are still searching for a new role.

The idea of the Christian striding through Africa or India, Bible in one hand and a medicine chest in the other, to bring the one true religion to a pagan people is a thing of the past.

The concept was finally snuffed out by the winds of change that raged through the colonial world after World War II, ushering in independence for a multitude of nations.

For Anglicans and Roman Catholics this has resulted in a reappraisal of aims and outlook. New guidelines are still being formulated. Gone is the arrogance and certainty. In its place is emerging a new and refreshing humility.

"We are not uncertain about our own religion, but we are uncertain about our judgment of other religions," said the Rev. Hans Burman, vicar general of the Roman Catholic Mill Hill Society, which has 1,000 members scattered around the world engaged in missionary work.

"We are still searching around. We are asking ourselves whether all the accent on dogma, ritualistic observances and church membership is really necessary. Is that

Lima Schools Remain Open

LIMA, Ohio (AP) — Lima's public schools will remain open through December even though no new revenue is in sight, school officials said Thursday.

The action was made possible by a vote of school employees, both teachers and non-teaching personnel.

Eighty-five per cent of the school employees voted to work through December without their paychecks and receive their pay in January in order to keep the schools open.

Saturday evening, Nov. 6 at 7:30 p.m.

Eighty-five persons voted at the election on Tuesday. It was gratifying to see several of the young people between the age of 18-21, cast their ballot.

what Christ wanted? There is a lot of evidence that he didn't. "Today we say, right, if someone finds his inspiration to do good is another religion—OK—so long as he does it well."

"Our hope is that if only we go on doing what we should the right convictions will come floating to the top," said Father Burman, who recently was elected to his post following a conference at which members of the society attempted to redefine their aims.

The ultimate aim of missionaries is still to bring "others to Christ." But the idea of the dramatic conversion and using the number of new converts as a yardstick of success has been jettisoned by many churches.

Now it is more a matter of illustrating through example to others that "if people are Christian in the real sense of the word it is easier for them to find a way out of the troubles which confront them," said Father Burman.

Similar changes have occurred for U.S. missionaries.

But for Britain, perhaps more than any other nation, missionaries were tied up with the concept of empire and the paternalism that went with it. The difficulties of adjusting to a changed situations have consequently been that much more difficult.

The British Church Missionary Society, a voluntary Anglican organization with 600 missionaries in 23 countries, recently commissioned two agencies to prepare a report on its work.

A spokesman for the CMS said they now put the accent on service and being attuned to the needs of the society they were working in.

Ship Explosion Said Sabotage

DACCA, East Pakistan (AP) — Three explosions sank a small oil tanker in the port of Chittagong Wednesday night, Pakistani officials in Dacca reported. They blamed the explosions on Bengali saboteurs.

Seven crewmen and a fireman are missing and 10 crewmen were injured, the officials said.

The tanker was tied up at a jetty in Chittagong, East Pakistan's major port on the Bay of Bengal. One official said two explosions occurred half an hour apart and while crew members and firemen were battling the resulting fire, a third blast occurred, flinging them overboard.

Major Banks Cut Interest Rate

NEW YORK (AP) — Four major commercial banks, led by Chase Manhattan Bank, cut their prime lending rate to 5½ per cent from 5 per cent Thursday.

The prime rate is the interest rate commercial banks charge their most credit-worthy corporate customers.

Announcing prime rate reductions with Chase, the nation's third largest bank, were Manufacturers Hanover Trust, the fourth largest; Morgan Guaranty Trust, the fifth largest; and Chemical Bank of New York, the seventh largest.

Sneek-A-Peek

By Pickaway County Library Staff

It is said that toddlers learn to verbalize early if older children and adults talk to them a lot. This may be one of the reasons for the enduring popularity of the bedtime story. In today's column there are featured new books which are especially chosen for reading aloud.

Arnold desperately wanted a friend. He kept bringing all sorts of animals home — a fawn, a tiger cub, even a python. But his mother refused to keep any of them until he found the perfect companion. In "Can I Keep Him?" by Steven Kellogg, the pictures are worth ten thousand words. Arnold's harassed mother is busy with true-to-life household tasks, but he is unfailingly kind in her sympathetic rejections of Arnold's unusual pets.

Bill Peet's "Wump World" is a hilarious comment on pollution. In this, his latest book, the wumps are invaded by creatures whose actions are caricatures of humans. The Pollutians and their World Chief fill the landscape with trash and waste, until it finally becomes unbearable even to them. This is a fine read-aloud, as adults will enjoy Peet's ironic humor.

"The Dutch Tiles," story by Pamela Stapleton, pictures by Evadoc Rowan, was printed in England by the Fredrick Warne Company. Its format has a foreign flavor, and it has great appeal. It is a bedtime story, imagined and told to match blue tiles which decorate the fireplace in a child's bedroom. It will be an excellent book for bedtime reading in this country, too.

With an innocent air, Aileen Fisher crams a great amount of scientific information into "But Ostriches". Miss Fisher, whose books are sheer delight, writes in rhyme and has a sure instinct for the choice phrase. Did you know that ostriches have two toes, but use only one? That they incubate their eggs for eight weeks? That they weigh up to three hundred pounds? You'll learn all this and more in a subtle way from this new book. It was illustrated by Peter Parnall.

She dozed in the sun, watching the pond through sleepy turtle eyes. Then without the slightest hurry, she picked her way to a dry and sandy place. In "Turtle Pond" by Berniece Fresheet, egg laying and the perilous hatching of baby turtles is related in the very simplest terms. Donald Carrick, who illustrated the book with fine watercolors, portrayed pond life with sensitivity.

Are brownies out-of-date? Not at all. Gladys L. Adshear proves this in "Brownies — They're Moving!" This story is slightly longer than the above mentioned books, but there are pictures on every page to help the action move along. Richard Lebenson is the artist, and his pictures bring nostalgic thoughts of the Campbell Soup Kid and little girls whose panties hung just below their dresses, and Scottie dogs frolicking along city streets.
